Katie,
Public speaking was fun.
The movie had something to be said, Mr. Borne's idea for beautiful, and you idea for reading children's books was a good one. I hope you have a great summer. I'll see you next year.
Love,
Ashley N.

-Katie-
Remember when we really knew each other good. I do.
It's strange how people kind of Face apart. It's just how it happens
I am glad I got to know you a couple years ago. Because it's now hard to meet new people.
I hope you have a terrific Rising Senior and a great Senior year
Love

Katie,
 I never told you but you remind me a great deal of my sister Bettina.
 She is very small and pretty and has a rather bird-like fashion.
 I have never told you about her.
 She lives in Chicago with a black guy and she eats soul food.
 Sometimes she is really intense and sometimes she is
 very playful.
 It is so fun to do things with her. Chances are that I won't with you, but it would be nice if it just could be. I hope that I see you

 during the summer

Wo my pen is freaking out. Anyhow - I sure am glad that this year is over. Katie we didn't really do any thing together this year and it makes me mad. You're coming to girls club right? You better! Katie - I didn't really get a good chance to know you to well this year, but the talks we had were fun. You listened to all my problems in public speaking and always understood as well as put a smile on my face. You are so sweet and caring - always happy and talkative. Public speaking was fun wasn't it? Kinda. You are a great speaker and your fun personality will take you far in life. Stay sweet and keep smiling. Have a super-fun summer and live it up! See you next year.

A collage of school-related items. At the top, a calendar page for Thursday, June 20, is visible with handwritten notes. Below it, a ruler and a pencil are shown. To the right, a stapler is positioned over a folder. The word 'FACULTY' is prominently displayed in large, bold, black letters across the bottom left of the image. The background consists of various papers, including a calendar and a folder, creating a busy, educational atmosphere.

School Board has new faces and places!

School Board Jack Bagdasar, Anne Hinchliffe, Rose Lachman, Pat Johansen, Martin Dodell.

With Dr. Jack Price in his second year as superintendent, the School Board has overseen several changes this year. The Board of Education, headed by new President, Martin Dodell, moved the continuation school to Rolling Hills High School and planned to close Margate Intermediate School. George Hardesty became the assistant superintendent of personnel and Nancy Mahr is the new community relations assistant. The Board of Education and District of Administration worked together on the ongoing development of curriculum and compliance with state requirements.

Administrative changes helped make for a great year

Christopher Bowles: Assistant Principal

Change seemed to be the theme this year. Jessica Leadly replaced Christopher Bowles as dean of students, moving Bowles up to assistant principle. For Nancy Detjen, her major change was her return to the classroom, teaching consumer math which deals with the practical aspects of current economics.

One of the district and administrative goals for the year was trying to encourage students to read more. To reach this goal, the school sponsored the Book Fair which helped boost interest in reading.

James Kinney: Director of Activities

In our world today it is impossible for one to be free of problems, and counselors often play a major role in helping students handle these obstacles.

Students who have gone to counselors in the past have appreciated the help they have offered. For the 1984-1985 school year there have been a few changes among the counseling staff. Mrs. Keschner is a new, part-time, counselor; and Mr. McIlroy, a full-time counselor, is replacing Mr. Brough.

This past year the English department headed by Pat Linehan was as strong as ever. With the addition of two new teachers, Elsa Celnicker and Posey Ondreck, the staff was the largest department. "The year really worked out well; the curriculum has come very close to reaching the new guidelines set by the state," said Linehan.

Linehan also described the continued success of the writing aides. "This year the five aides have been used a great deal." She added, "They individually help the students who need the extra work on grammar, composition etc."

Costantini added that members of the staff have always tried to maintain high standards for themselves as well as for their students.

Teachers, books, and computers are just a few of the new aspects in the math department this year. Former Rolling Hills High School teacher, Derek Blackwell, joined the department, and both pre-calculus and geometry books were issued at the start of the year.

"The ASB bought a computer for the math department; each math class will use it to demonstrate different mathematical concepts," said Joan Gell, head of the math department. She also said, "Because of the new University of California and California State University increase in math requirements, there has been an increase in the number of math classes this year."

Weddings abound in Consumer Math.

Sixteen students were married last fall in a ceremony which marked the beginning of the new Consumer Math class here at Palos Verdes. The class, taught by Pricipal Nancy Detjen and Richard Hazeltine emphasized the practical skills necessary to running an independent household. Detjen referred to the class as "Survival Math." In the second semester students were enrolled in the Business Math class where they were able to set up their own businesses and learn the priciples of management.

Ruth Hasley: Chemistry I.

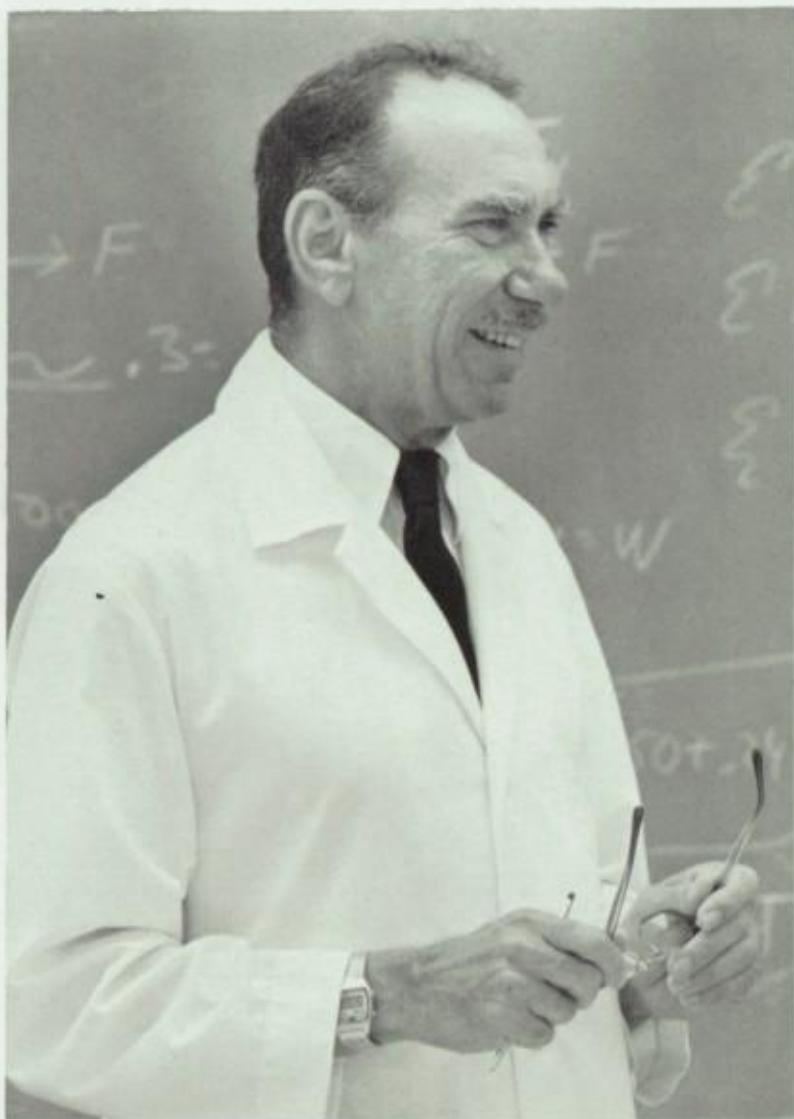

El Jay Warkentin: Chemistry II AP, Chemistry I.

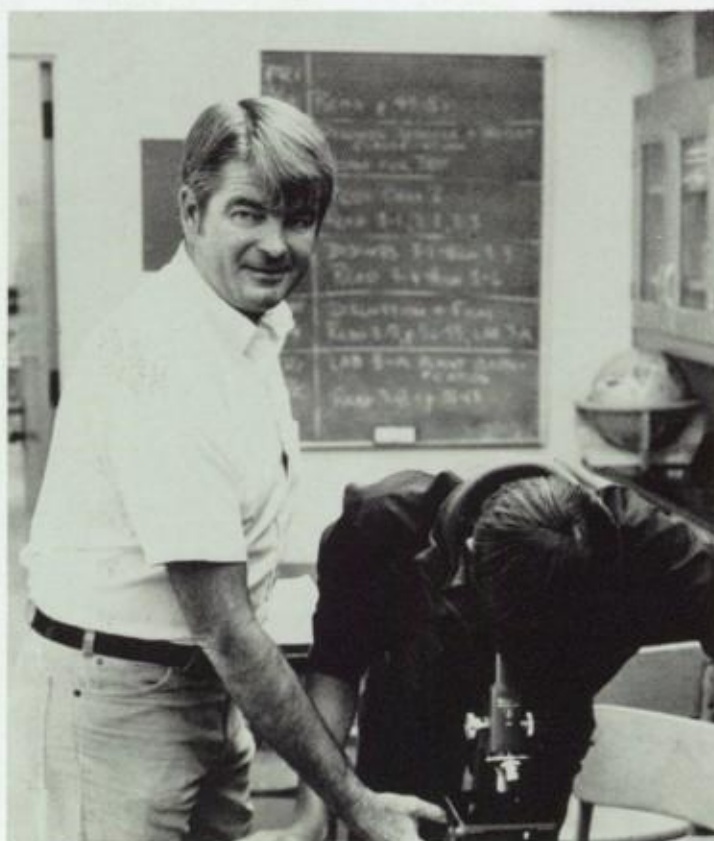

According to Shirley Beym, head of the science department, students have taken a greater interest in science this year than in any of the previous years. The science department responded to this increase by offering more advanced classes. To keep up with all of the recent scientific discoveries, new books were supplied for all of the Biology I classes. Beym said, "I think it is very good that more students can now go on to advanced science classes."

Willard Judy: Life Science, Biology I, Athletics.

Many students' interest continues through their third and fourth year even though it is not always required by colleges.

According to Kermit Olsen, department chairman, Palos Verdes has a high proportion of students enrolled in foreign language studies.

Karenjo Goodwin: Chamber Chorale.

Our Performing Arts department proved to be outstanding once again.

PV's marching band did very well in competition including a $1000 first prize in L.A. County Fair's Blue Ribbon contest, and jazz band and orchestra entertained audiences in addition to performing excellently in competition.

Our talented drama students were also very busy competing and performing, combining efforts with our band and chorale in our spring musical.

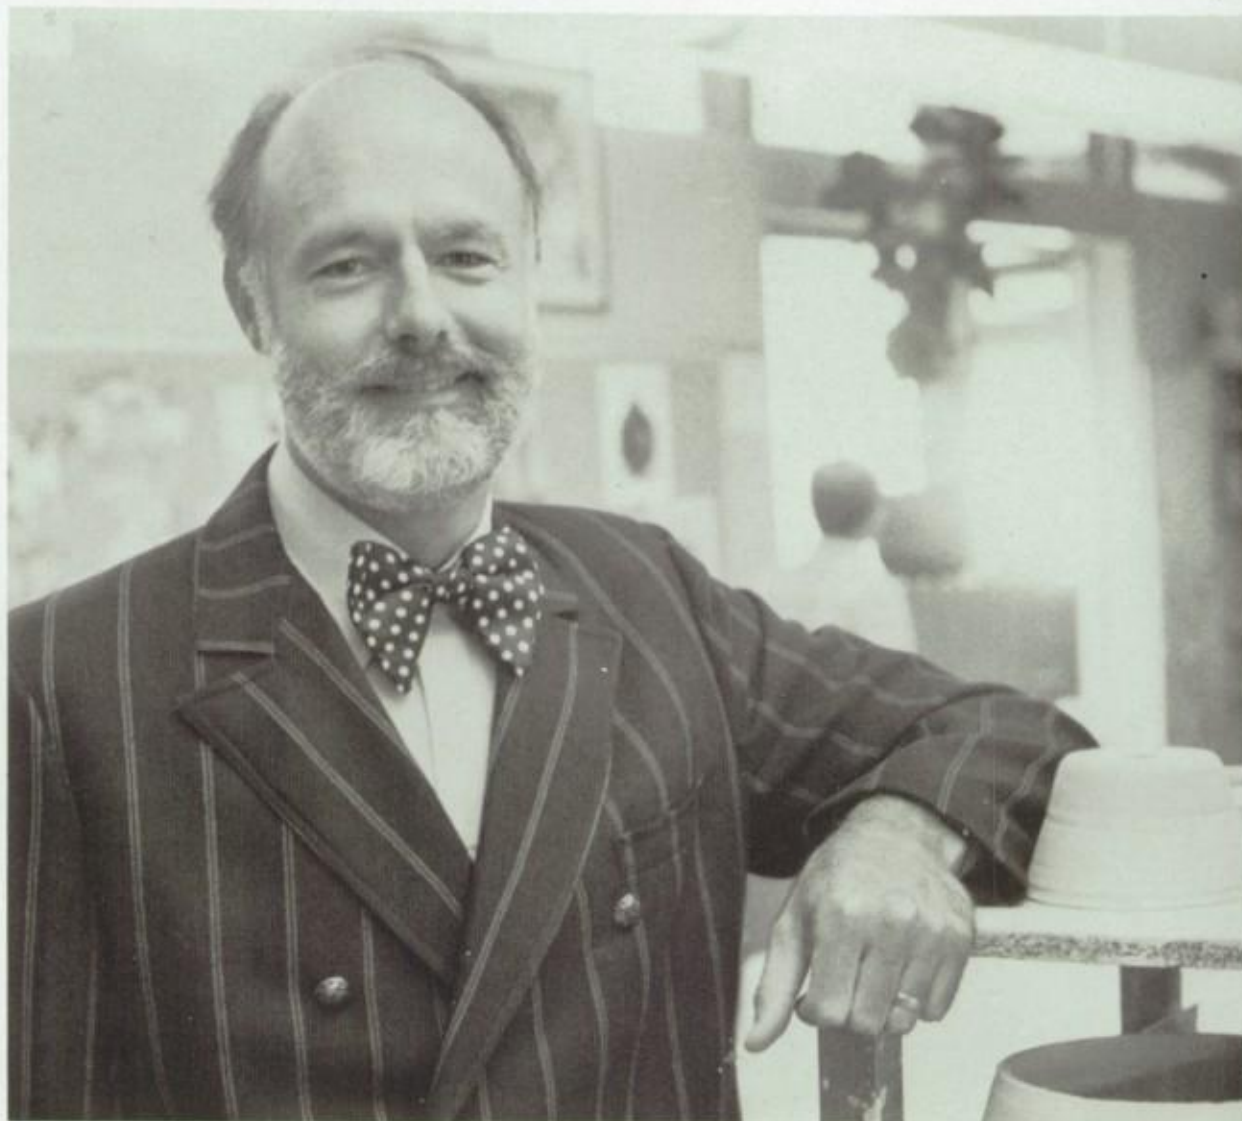

Art students were involved in many art activities at Palos Verdes High School as well as in the community.

Poster contests for the Bill of Rights and the Norris Community Theatre Youth Show, art competitions such as the Scholastic Art awards, USC All High School Juried Show, the Palos Verdes Community Arts Association exhibit and Art for Fund's Sake were among the many.

New courses added to the curriculum within the past year were advanced placement studio art and creative design, which were both popular. Sculpture as a part of the ceramics program has also been introduced.

According to Department Chairwoman Madelyn Bilky, health and drivers education was moved into the P.E. department, restricting the dance class to the sophomores and upper classmen.

Teachers contribute their time to special education

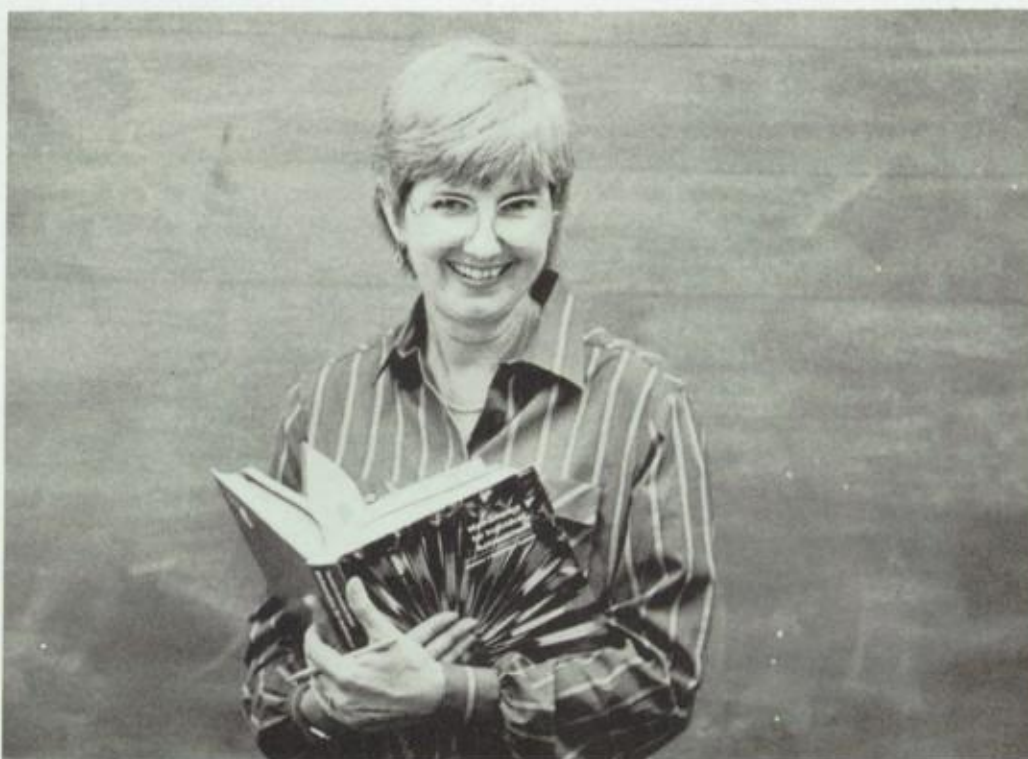

For the first time and with the help of aid Dick Dean, students are improving their writing skills by using word processing programs. The emphasis this year is on study skills. The use of the lab nextdoor and the new computer set-up also enhanced the Special Education program.

Lifelike machines are crossing the border between science fiction and technology. One example of this is in Walt Donahue's metal shop classes. With the help of the new computer, students have been able to assemble robots which manipulate materials.

After being absent for many years, gourmet cooking was offered again at Palos Verdes High. It featured a unique mixture of foriegn and traditional foods. Some recipes included fudge, string popcorn and an eight-foot burrito.

Mary Larson: Resource Specialist Program.

Sue Neuman: Resource Specialist Program.

Various offices at Palos Verdes are the mainstay of the school. Nancy Forbes, librarian, has encouraged "reading for pleasure," as well as helped classes with research projects.

Sales are up at the Student Store and Joyce Sunden's Apple computer has helped organize senior obligations and prom sales. Because enrollment has increased, attendance and health offices are busier than ever. All other problems and conflicts are settled in the principals' offices.

Joyce Sunden: Student Store.

Terry Martin: Vice Principal's Office.

Dena Cox: Main Office.

Mary Bell White, Kay Urburu: Nurse, Health Office.

Jim and James together helped keep the campus clean

The custodians worked hard this year to keep our campus looking clean and beautiful, and they did an excellent job.

PV's groundsmen were also busy keeping the school beautiful with neatly mowed lawns and trimmed shrubs.

In addition, the cafeteria kept PV's hungry students satisfied. They offered breakfast as well as lunch and introduced new, delicious foods.

Jim Mitchell joined James Mollica this year to assist him in the guidance of troublesome students.

Custodians: Earl Nesbitt, Jack Kitchen Sr., Jeff Beck, Lloyd Wells, Jerry Sisneros, Carlos Vega, Francis LeRoy, Jack Kitchen Jr..

Groundsmen: Val Guzman, Jesse Gonzalez.

Cafeteria Workers: Donna Taylor, Geraldine Pandora, Chu Dung, Yvonne Nguyen, Brigitte Walz, Mit Albanese, Bertine Bliss, Mary Crum, Lucille Belt.

English Writing Aides: Faith Sabel, Felice Hunter, Bryna Alper.

English Writing Aide: Marlene Fuentavilla.

English Writing Aide: Deryck Phillips.

All teaching aides provided PV High students with another year of invaluable service.

The English writing aides helped students in their writing skills, especially in composition classes.

PV's Special Education program offered teaching in a wide range of subjects. Individual attention was given to students on a one-to-one basis.

To my bestest friend, Maria, who should know better than wonder why. Know I always understood. "M" and M will always remain, and little but cozy beach dreams live forever. Neenie, thanx for your special friendship, and Jim, thanx for all the laughs! We've survived life's growing pains...and will continue...together.

All my love,
Shab

Senior year was the most memorable of all, especially camp early in fall. We crossed the bridge on the mysterious bus, and got to Hawaii without much fuss. Living together wasn't much of a drag, until that smelly thing appeared in M's bag. The food was terrible to say the least, green gravy and brownies aren't much of a feast! We had some good meetings and planned a lot, for the Commissioners' slush fund and free sweatshirts we fought. The weekend was great and so was the year; now we leave with a drop of a tear. So long to PV and the memories we've had, of buffalos, white purses, and trendy fads. We leave behind just one question more—please tell us where we're heading for!
Biff, Spiff, Midget, and Lowlife

Dear Mom,

Big brother Jason was too cheap to get you anything, but the two wise men wanted to get you this end of the year surprise. SURPRISE!!!

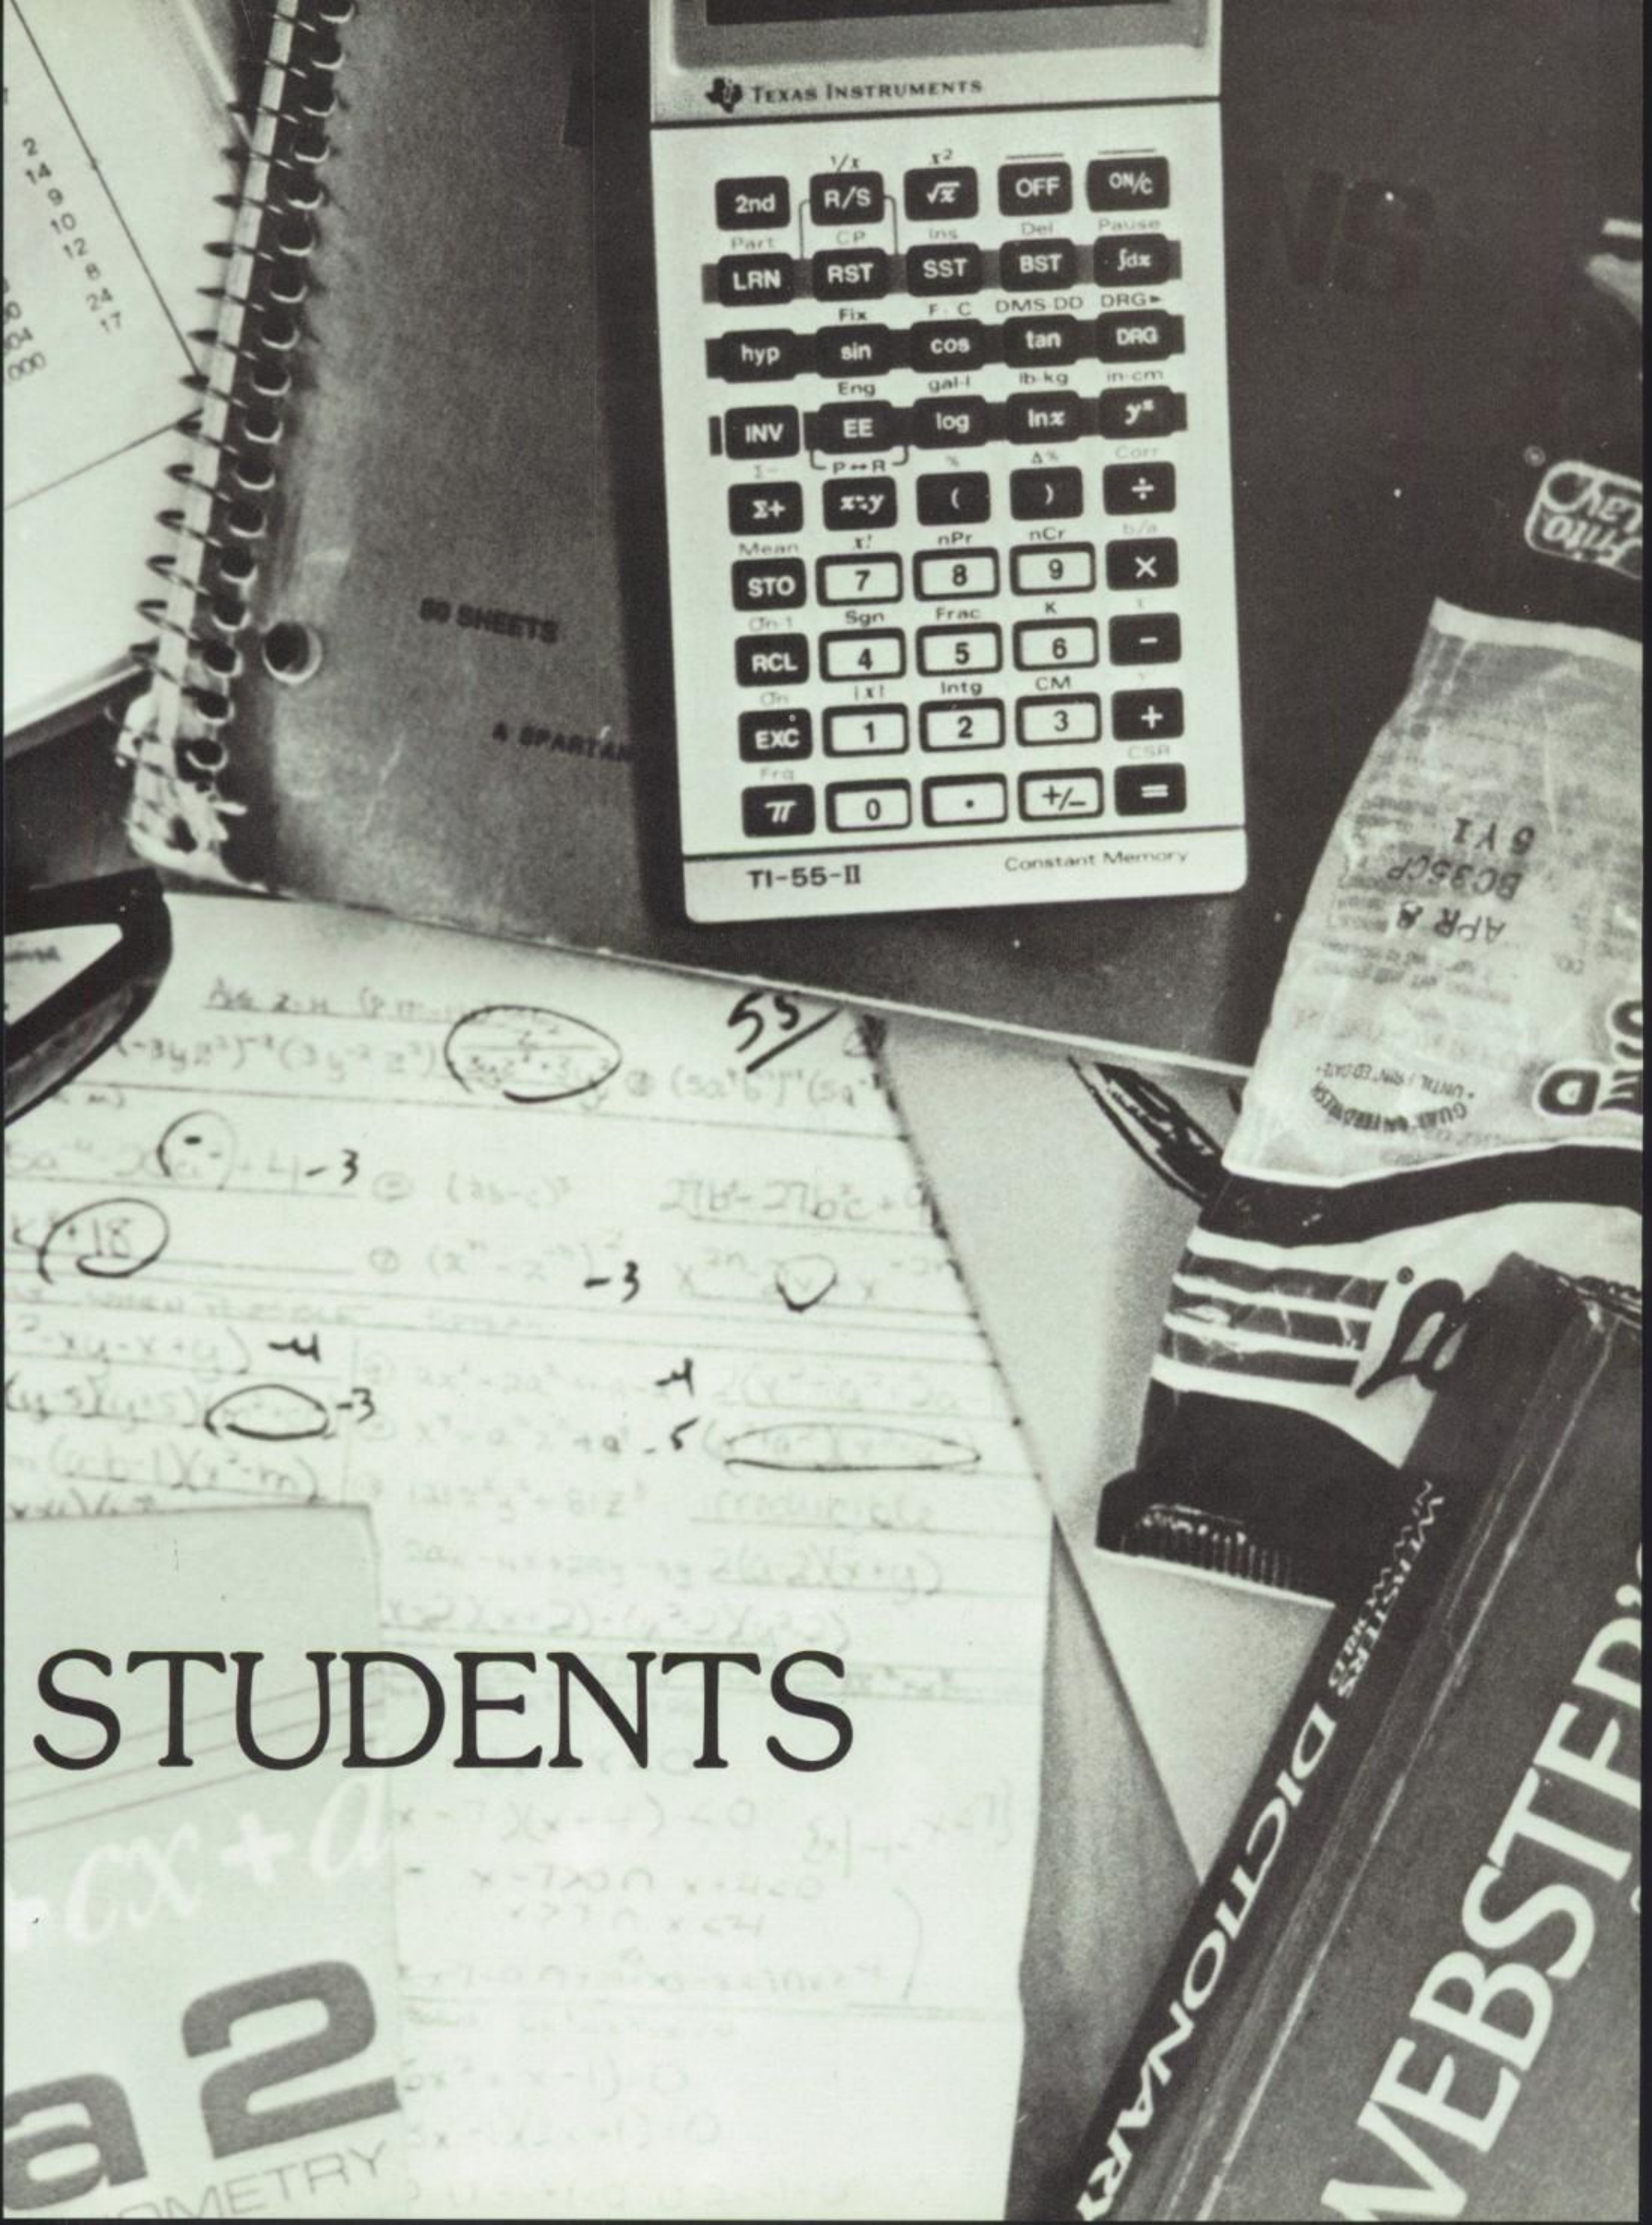

Your loving sons
Mike and John McLeod

Thanks to the Calculus class of 84-85 for a truly entertaining year. We had loads of fun, didn't we? What am I ever going to do without you? I'll miss you all, and good luck at college.

Kathy,

Does this sound familiar? "Don't worry about it!" Thanks for a great year! You've got a friend for life.

Love always,

SENIORS

PV Seniors go out in style

With the encouragement of friends and teachers, the Class of 1985 finished four years of hard work. Seniors enjoyed the traditional activities of Homecoming and the Carnival and welcomed the novelty of the Winter Formal. With college applications finally out of the way, seniors finished off the year with the excitement of the Prom, Ditch Day, Baccalaureate, Disneyland, and, of course, Graduation. As the year quickly came to an end, seniors stored away the many memories of friendship and good times accumulated during their four years at PVHS.

"Me, Senior Class President?" laughs Beth Blayney.

Katie -
 You know I still think about that psychology test we took on Creative Thought
 Day! And then I think about that (what I'm saying!) your brother being hum for being so rude. Anyway - I'm looking forward to making this the best summer yet and I hope you're a part of it! Don't misbehave too much!
 ♥ Denise

Katie,
 I really had fun this year in Geometry and American Studies. When I came into Geometry at the semester I really didn't know anyone. I could talk to ~~the~~ you and tell some stories. You made me feel really comfortable and I thank you. Have a good summer and maybe I'll see you next year.

Love
 Mike

Following two fantastic years, the Junior class has become accustomed to success. Throughout the duration of last year, they won the float-building competition and raised huge amounts of money selling concessions.

These numerous fundraisers provided ample money for the numerous activities of this year's Junior class. Due to this, the Class of 1986 was able to score another impressive win in this year's float-building competition, under the theme of 'Bad Moon Rising.' This victory, the second in a row for the Juniors, was a definite disappointment for the Class of 1985, as they never won the float contest.

The numerous funds raised by the Class of '86 also went to a successful and glamorous prom, which is traditionally sponsored by the Junior class. Although it is always an expensive and time-consuming endeavor, the prom was one of the best in the history of the school. Class President Lisa Ito, largely responsible for the success of the class, stated, 'I was really happy to see our class come together like they did. I don't think we could have done it without such strong class spirit.'

Freshmen love to work and have fun

Activities and hard work helped to build the spirited atmosphere surrounding the class of '88.

Floatbuilding, carnival set-up and the sale of concessions were just a few of the new adventures that the freshmen encountered.

According to Alexandra Pulman, class president, "This class had a lot of fun even though we put in a lot of hard work."

Summer Show, "Joseph," leaves audience in awe

The entire cast, crew, orchestra, and supporters of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" take a final bow.

Napthali (David Young) and saloon girl Alissa Varricchione celebrate the mysterious absence of Joseph.

The PVHS summer show, "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat," followed the tradition of a summer success story. Musically depicting the Bible story, it told the tale of Jacob's son, Joseph. Since Jacob favored Joseph over his eleven other sons, he presented him with a magical coat of colors. In turn, the jealous brothers sold him into Egyptian slavery.

Fine performances were put forth by freshman newcomer Tracie Zimmerman as the narrator and sophomore John McIntire as Joseph. Also contributing to the excitement was Adam Horn as the Pharoah. In the hands of director Jim Bell and choreographer Corky Dominguez, the production ran smoothly.

After becoming great friends, Joseph (John McIntire) interprets the Pharoah's (Adam Horn) dream.

Zebulun (Tim Stanford) and Judah (Seth Blacher) get down during the celebration. Tracie Zimmerman sings about the fate of Joseph.

For a brief moment, the eleven other sons of Jacob forget their jealous thoughts to flash their pearly whites.

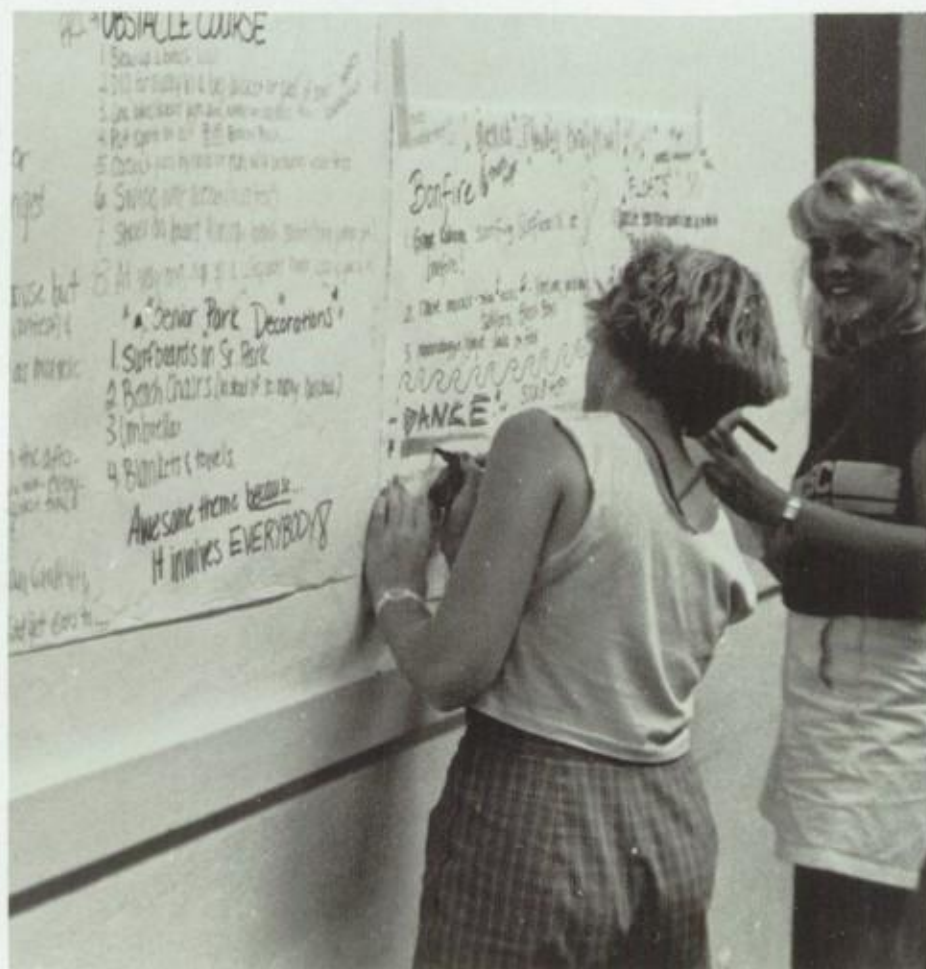

Students plan 'fun' activities including RH halftime show

Leadership Camp, held this year at Catalina Island, accomplished a great deal. Among the topics discussed were Homecoming Week, school improvement, the activity line and calendar, and school spirit buttons.

"Leadership Camp brought us closer together and strengthened our school spirit. It was a great opportunity for us to plan the rest of the year's activities," commented Senior Assemblyman Molly Tracy.

Thinking up more terrific activities, the Leadership Camp participants discuss their ideas.

Planning the Homecoming theme, Denise Doley and Felicia Filep write down ideas.

Taking a break, Jeannine Kilroy and friends play a fun game of volleyball.

The incredible final score, PV wins 25-14.

Tom Vogt poses as the school mascot, the Poseidon.

Erik Kunzelman, alias Tommy Titan, gets pelted by water balloons from the Varsity football players.

The RH game halftime show, including a terrific performance by the band and drill team, was highlighted by a spectacular skydiving show.

Earlier in the day, Tommy Titan was trapeled during a lunchtime pep rally.

Halloween theme inspires activities

Like all Homecomings at Palos Verdes, this year's provided elaborate activities and excitement for the entire student body. Reflecting the Halloween atmosphere, PV chose "Bad Moon Rising" as its Homecoming theme.

Students prepared for and participated in the activities that entire week, awaiting the climax on Friday. As usual, the Homecoming week events included the presentation of the Princesses, float-building and flower-fluffing, tug-o-war, and a pie-eating contest. Other events that week consisted of bopper fights, mummy wraps, balloon battles and other inspiring activities which increased school and class spirit. With such enthusiasm, PV experienced one of its most successful and enjoyable Homecomings.

Kimi Warden, Kia Moore, Liz Lyon, Stacy Lewars, and Kristen Chaisson pose after their introduction as Homecoming Princesses.

During Homecoming Week, ASB President, Mike Brandmeyer, becomes a bulls-eye for flying water balloons.

With extreme care and precision, students build Homecoming floats to perfection.

Attempting to devour the pies, students engage in a mess.

As spectators smile and laugh, Paul Dunphy and Don Humphrey grit and tug the senior class to victory.

After a thrilling day of Homecoming, the outdoor stage is motionless.

While the student body looks upon, two students bop it out in the "Battle of the Gargantuans."

Homecoming Day ends a week of great excitement

Homecoming Court: Princess Kristen Chaisson, Princess Liz Lyon, Queen Kia Moore, Princess Kimi Warden, and Princess Stacy Lewars.

Showing fantastic skill, sophomore girls work well together.

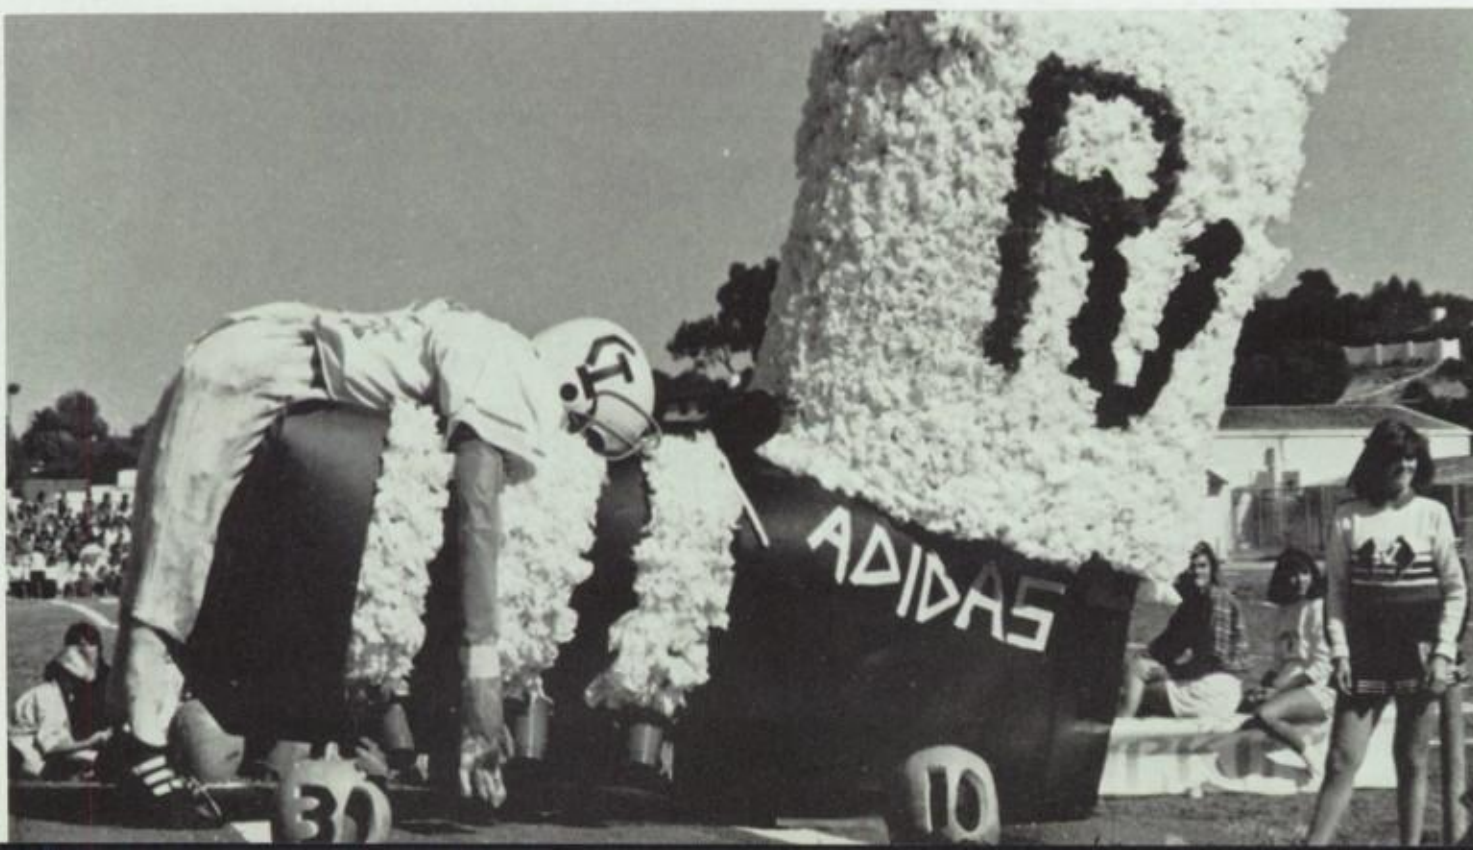

Featuring the 1984 Homecoming Court of Princesses Kimi Warden, Liz Lyon, Stacy Lewars, Kristen Chaisson, and Queen Kia Moore, the 1984 Homecoming Week continued many of the traditions and festivities. In addition, however, one very important tradition was brought to an end, as the Homecoming Formal was changed to a dance. This slight change had no adverse effect on student enthusiasm or lunchtime activities.

Jackson Wang gives Jeannine Kilroy more than just a simple kiss.

Homecoming Queen, Kia Moore, proudly walks beside her father.

For the second year in a row, the class of 1986 wins the float contest.

Je t'aime Paris

Although there was no Homecoming Formal this year, PV students all enjoyed the Winter Formal, a substitute which proved very successful. The formal's theme was "Je t'aime Paris" or "I Love Paris." Yesterday's Papers, a popular local band, played for the entertainment of all. Winter formals, if this year was a precedent, will be seen frequently in the years to come.

The 1984 Winter Formal brings friends together for a night filled with fun and excitement.

Stacey Huizdos and Leon Watkins take a break after a night of dancing.

Mindy Fountain and Mike McKay help keep Nadia Solis company.

Tim O'Neil, Curt Chin, and their dates have fun dancing to the music.

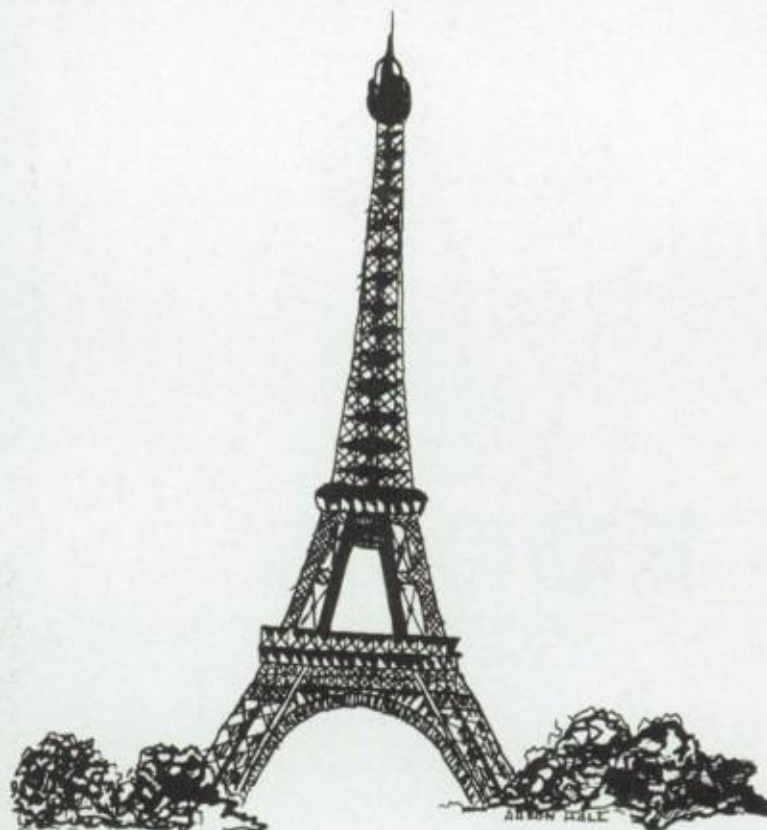

Debbie Johnson and Andrew Chekian make plans for the fun night ahead.

Roy Leonard and Kathy Brown show their formal spirit.

Robin Zuckerman and her date Lawrence Hart enjoy themselves.

Drama III and IV entertain with "Fools"

Leon the teacher (David Young) tries to explain the meaning of life to his confused student Sophia (Kristen Robinson).

Dr. Zubritsky (Adam Horn) attempts to examine the Magistrate's (Chris Juell's) heart.

Slavitch (Erik Kunzelman), Yenchna (Vicki Brewen), and Mishkin (Dan Selzer) discuss the town's curse.

The hilarious PV fall show, "Fools," a comic fable by Neil Simon, entertained audiences with a great performance.

"Fools" followed the story of a young school teacher (David Young) trying to break the spell of a cursed Russian village filled with idiots. Meanwhile, he falls hopelessly in love with one of his students, but she is destined to marry a man she doesn't love to break the town curse

Backing up the story of "Fools" was an exciting cast consisting of ten Drama III and IV students. Fine performances were put out by David Young, Adam Horn, and Kristen Robinson.

Bewildered, Snetsky (Adam Roth) and Slavitch (Erik Kunzelman) look for Snetsky's flock of sheep.

Leon (David Young) confronts Count Gregor Youskevitch (Chris Mabli) over Sophia and the town curse.

Snetsky (Adam Roth) and the townspeople celebrate the wedding. Lenya (Gretchen Ambrose) and Dr. Zubritsky listen for Sophia.

Harlan Shoemaker: clearly a day to remember for PVHS

Hoping his friends Dan Tokaji and Mitch Wong catch him, Rafael Solis leaps into their awaiting arms.

Showing their usual energy and flair, members of Drill Team perform well.

Dressed in trash bags, Tom Vogt pretends to steal the children's presents.

Santa Claus brightens the children's Christmas at Harlan Shoemaker.

Harlan Shoemaker was clearly a success this year. Students spent hours entertaining the handicapped children with numerous acts and skits. In addition, two shows were scheduled. The first for the smaller children and the second for the older ones. To conclude the day, presents of all sorts were passed out and refreshments served.

Percussionists make beautiful music at Harlan Shoemaker.

Palos Verdes students entertain children with the performance of the "Three Bears."

Faculty wins once again in Donkey Basketball, 38-28

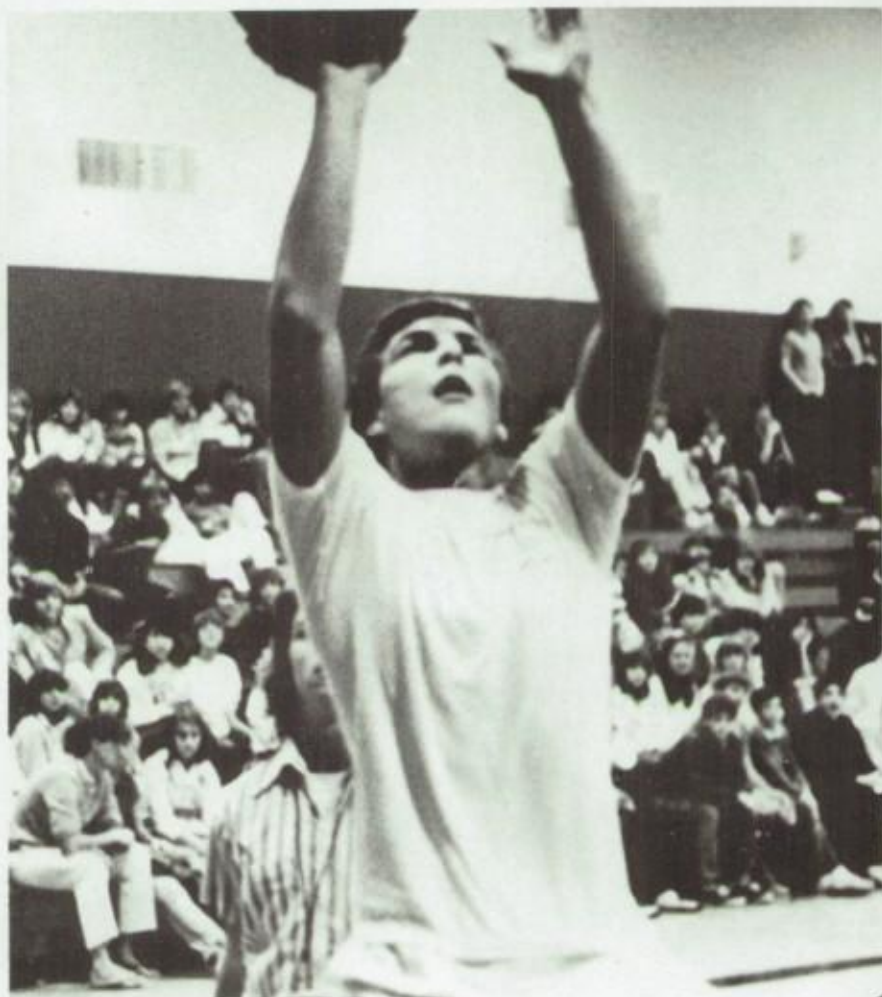

Faculty player, Steve Eberhard, awaits in anticipation for the rebound of the ball.

Robert Blanco, playing for the faculty, tries to strike up a bargain with his donkey.

Eva Burkley and Linda Hart, dressed for the occasion, come to battle the faculty.

Aiming for the basket, Rob Antrobius tries to score for the student team.

Ted Marsh struts his stuff, while the crowd and teammates patiently await the beginning of the game.

The annual Donkey Basketball game ended with another faculty victory, 38-28. The Lettermans Club, which made up the male half of the student team, sponsored the successful fundraiser. The rules of the game were that the players remain on their donkeys when passing and shooting.

By racking up fourteen points, Rob Antrobius earned the title of high scorer of the game. Other student contributors were Hendrik Falk, Jill Bredehorn, and Ted Marsh. Dominating the faculty team were Steve and Gil Eberhard.

Struggling to get his donkey moving, Andy Wilhem displays his strength.

Students dance "In the Name of Love"

The fifth annual Valentine's Formal, sponsored by the Student Activities League, proved to be a success once again. With streamers draping down from the ceiling and red and white balloons everywhere, the students danced, "In the Name of Love" to the band, "Treble Entente" as the mood of romance pervaded all through the night.

The highlight of the evening was the announcement of the Valentine's Court. Dom Militello was announced "King of Hearts," with Princes Tom Vogt, Eric Seaburn, Aaron Gurewitz, and Matt Seaburn as his court.

In the name of love, Jim Disney tells Katie Melo the words she loves to hear.

Exhausted from dancing, a group of PV students stop for a brief moment.

While dancing, Scott Mumby is willingly attacked by a fan.

Barnum (Adam Horn) attempts to fool his wife again with one of the biggest humbugs ever.

"Barnum" brings big top excitement to Spring Musical

The circus clowns try to persuade everyone to join the P.T. Barnum circus crew.

Barnum and Chairy powerfully sing, "Come Follow the Band."

Chairy Barnum (Kristen Robinson) gives helpful advice on how to build a museum in two days.

Mark Bramble's story, "Barnum," was presented by the PV High Performing Arts Department for the Spring Musical in '85. With a colorful cast including Adam Horn as P.T. Barnum, the story followed the life and times of this circus genius.

Capturing the role as Barnum's wife was an enthusiastic Kristen Robinson. Other strong performances were given by Randy Bouverat, Ted Kapner, and newcomers Deanna Jurgens and Carol Cowley.

In addition to a talented cast, the use of a big top and the involvement of the orchestra played key roles in the show's success. Also, various service clubs sold cotton candy, peanuts, popcorn, and candied apples to enhance the circus theme.

As he plays the part of a clown, Mitch Cannady fulfills his childhood dreams.

ORGANIZATIONS

ASB officers raise PV's school spirit

The Associated Student Body, also known as ASB, plays a major role at Palos Verdes High. ASB plans most of the schools activities for all occasions. Dances, school functions, the lunch time bands, and especially Homecoming events are just a few examples that bring many students together.

This year, the ASB has made some changes. The ASB President Mike Brandmeyer, along with the other officers, decided to change Palos Verdes' traditional Homedoming formal into an open dance allowing every student to participate.

PV's organizations have a spirited year

The 1985 Valentine's Formal, the fifth annual, was one of the many activities which the Students' Activities League took part in. Other such activities included ushering at the Norris Theater and the beautification of Palos Verdes Estates.

The Academic Decathlon and the Library Advisory Committee were both hard-working groups this year. Matt Glavas, member of the Academic Decathlon, commented, "We had a really busy and productive year." The Library Committee worked on increasing student awareness of the facilities at the Palos Verdes Libraries. The three organizations were very productive this year.

The yearbook staff put together another fine edition of the Triton. Led by Editor in Chief John Yoon, this year's Triton overcame some frustrating moments to meet the deadlines which they were assigned.

Also, the addition of a new computer made things a little bit easier for the staff to do their boards.

All in all, times were difficult but the Triton staff of 1985 received terrific results they can be proud of.

In an attempt to inform and inflame the student body, the editors and staff of the award-winning Trident survived equipment breakdowns, late-night deadlines, and inexperience to capture the major stories of the year.

Holding to high journalistic standards, The Trident increased its hard news content, while producing entertaining features and editorials that stimulated much debate among students.

"Above all, our goal during the year was to be sincere in its intent, and professional in its delivery of the facts," stated Editor-in-Chief Greg Sumi, who added "And no one can doubt the commitment of each editor and staff member."

The Spanish Club celebrated Mexico's 100th year of independence. By selling churros and bonus books they were able to sponsor a little girl in Bolivia. They also went on a field trip to Olivera Street.

Starting this year with a picnic at Palos Verdes Park, the Oriental Culture Club had an interesting year. They finished the year with an International Banquet featuring Korean, Chinese, and Japanese food.

The Greek Club participated in many interesting activities such as tapings of "Night Court," "Spencer," and "Give Me a Break." They also visited a Greek restaurant called 'Papadakis Taverna.' However, the most important and significant activity was sponsoring a child from the Island of Cyprus with the money from Greek-Ka-Bobs and Greek Tacos.

Being one month late, the German Club had a Novemberfest instead of an Octoberfest. With the money from their bakes sales in Peninsula Center, they also had a Christmas party which was a smashing success.

The art of diplomacy, otherwise known as the art of faking it, was a constant in the ever-changing world of the Palos Verdes Model United Nations. Of course, 1985 was another great year for the club, a year in which they once again proved themselves superior to other area schools, including our friendly neighborhood arch-rivals.

This year, there were only two international exchange students: Ariane Fuechtner and Henrik Vjaar. Henrik is from Denmark, while Ariane is from Germany. Two P.V. students traveled abroad last year. The students are supported by the International Exchange Club. This club sponsored a booth at the Carnival.

The French Club, revived this year, had a great time while enjoying French culture in the form of restaurants and French movies.

Sports Clubs intensify school spirit

The Handball Club had a great first year. Despite having small participation, the club was big among its members.

Handball Club: Manuel Ocali, Donna Casper, Barbara Patton, Patti Salem, Kathleen Babros, Ken Foxman.

The Volleyball Club, once again, had another successful year. Made up of the members of both the girls' and boys' volleyball teams, and others with an interest in volleyball, the members strongly supported each other at the team games. One member, Liz White, summed it up as "Volleyball Club Kicked...!"

The Palos Verdes Track Club had a very succesful first year. Club events centered around running and all of the members were forced to keep in shape. A great future is expected for this new club.

The Sports Talk Club, invented by four bright youths, had a great year. The members gathered together and shared their opinions of different sports figureheads. After each meeting, the members walked away with new fantasies of sports ambitions.

Lead by President Kathleen Shen, Board Games Club met at lunch to play their favorite games of Backgammon and Othello.

The Industrial Arts Club met almost daily at lunch, making the Woodshop available to students who had no access to it otherwise. They held many activities including a spring barbeque.

The Political Science Club was very active on campus and invited many guests to speak before the club. The purpose of the club was to promote political awareness on campus.

Just formed this year, SWE is a club for those interested in the field of engineering. SWE went to seminars at universities and also visited corporations.

Small clubs are still important at PV

Being one of the most mysterious clubs in Palos Verdes campus life, SPOOUSA became very active in their first year of official existence. The meaning of their acronym, as well as their rites of indoctrination, is confidential and are reported only to be training for college life and membership in the international organization of SPOOUSA.

This school year was, if nothing else, a success for the fledgling Bridge Club. In this, their second year, their membership tripled and they taught their inexperienced members all the fine subtleties of the game of Bridge. This club has lots of potential and promises to be a dominant factor in the future of Palos Verdes campus life.

Third Row: Liz Lee, Kirstin Gee, Lily Yu, Shinka Mohaghegh, Mi Kyung Hong, Misty Yoshikawa, Gisela Lin, Lana Yu, Kerry Kuwahara.

Contrary to public belief, the Art Club is not just a group of high socialites who indulge themselves in the Fine Arts. They raise funds to support their senior members with art scholarships and art books for college. Their funds were supplied this year by hard working members at events such as the Christmas Art Sale, the See's Sucker Sale, and the annual Carnival.

Boosted by a doubling of their membership, the Oriental Chess Club continued to offer the Oriental students at Palos Verdes High a chance to play Oriental Chess. Their frequent meetings and high degree of competitiveness contributed to their second year growth, and they are all optimistic about the future of their prestigious club.

Pep Squad ignites spirit

Not only have they cheered at the major sporting events of this year, but the PV High Pep Squad has also attended those sports that are less popular.

It has been a successful year led by head cheerleader, Denise Doley, head songleader, Jacinta Ma, head flag-twirler, Jill Bredehorn, and Linda Hart, the President of Pep Squad.

"Although it's been hard, we have really enjoyed supporting and spreading school spirit at all the games we have attended," commented cheerleader Colleen Nolan.

Besides being supportive at games, the Pep Squad led many pep rallies and lunchtime activities which really boosted student morale at PV.

Anxiously awaiting another Sea King score, Mary Barrick watches the game.

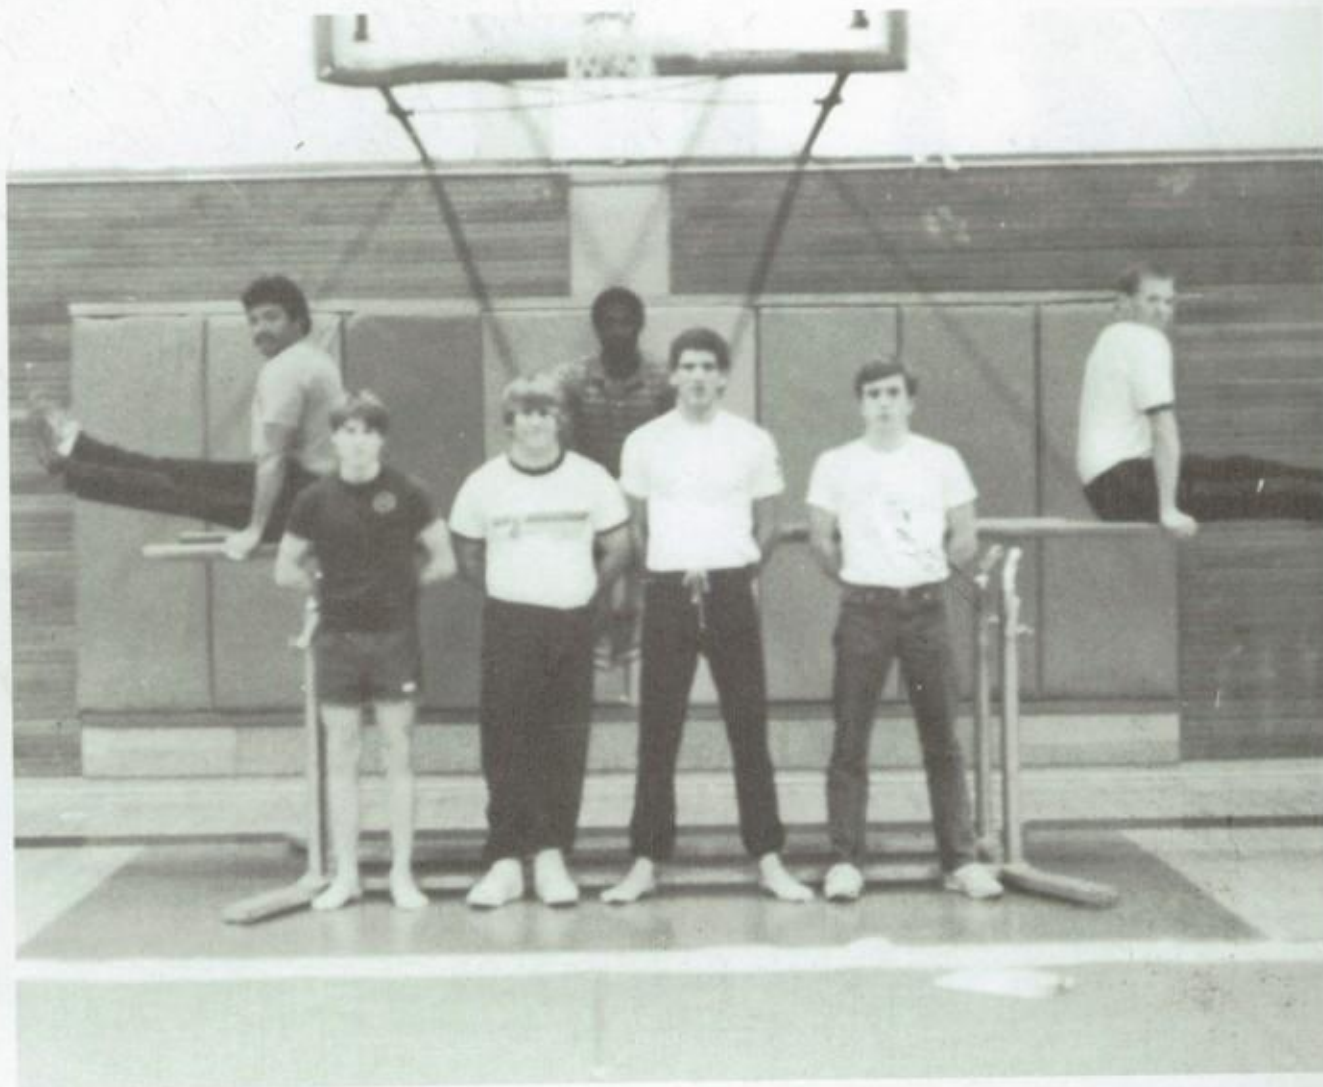

Having lots of fun, Seniors Linda Hart and Denise Doley lead the cheers.

For the first time on campus the Gymnastics Club, coached by Jim Mitchell, holds practice sessions for those who wish to try out for the team next year.

The Coin and Stamp Club, under the direction of Mrs. Hall, planned activities for those interested in stamp and coin collecting.

Recovering from a 2-5 league and 2-7 overall record in 1983, the Varsity football team moved up the ranks from a predicted fifth-place finish to a share of the Bay League Championship title with Santa Monica. The title marks for the Sea Kings their first first-place finish since 1979 and their first CIF berth since 1980 thanks to this year's hard-driving offense and brick-wall defense.

The Sea King victories over their arch rival, Rolling Hills, and over their most hated opponent, West, highlighted an already spectacular season. In both games, PV managed to win with last-minute comebacks. PV scored 22 points in four and a half minutes to beat Rolling Hills and completed a 55 yard touchdown pass with no time on the clock to upset West and to clinch the Bay League title.

Although PV lost the first round of CIF Playoffs, the loss was incidental compared to the Sea Kings' amazing turn around season. Much credit goes to Coach Bill Judy for the Sea Kings' 5-1 league and 7-4 overall record and to Tri-Captains Dom Militello, Chris Steskal, and John Yoon for lifting the spirits of a team discouraged from last year's disappointing season.

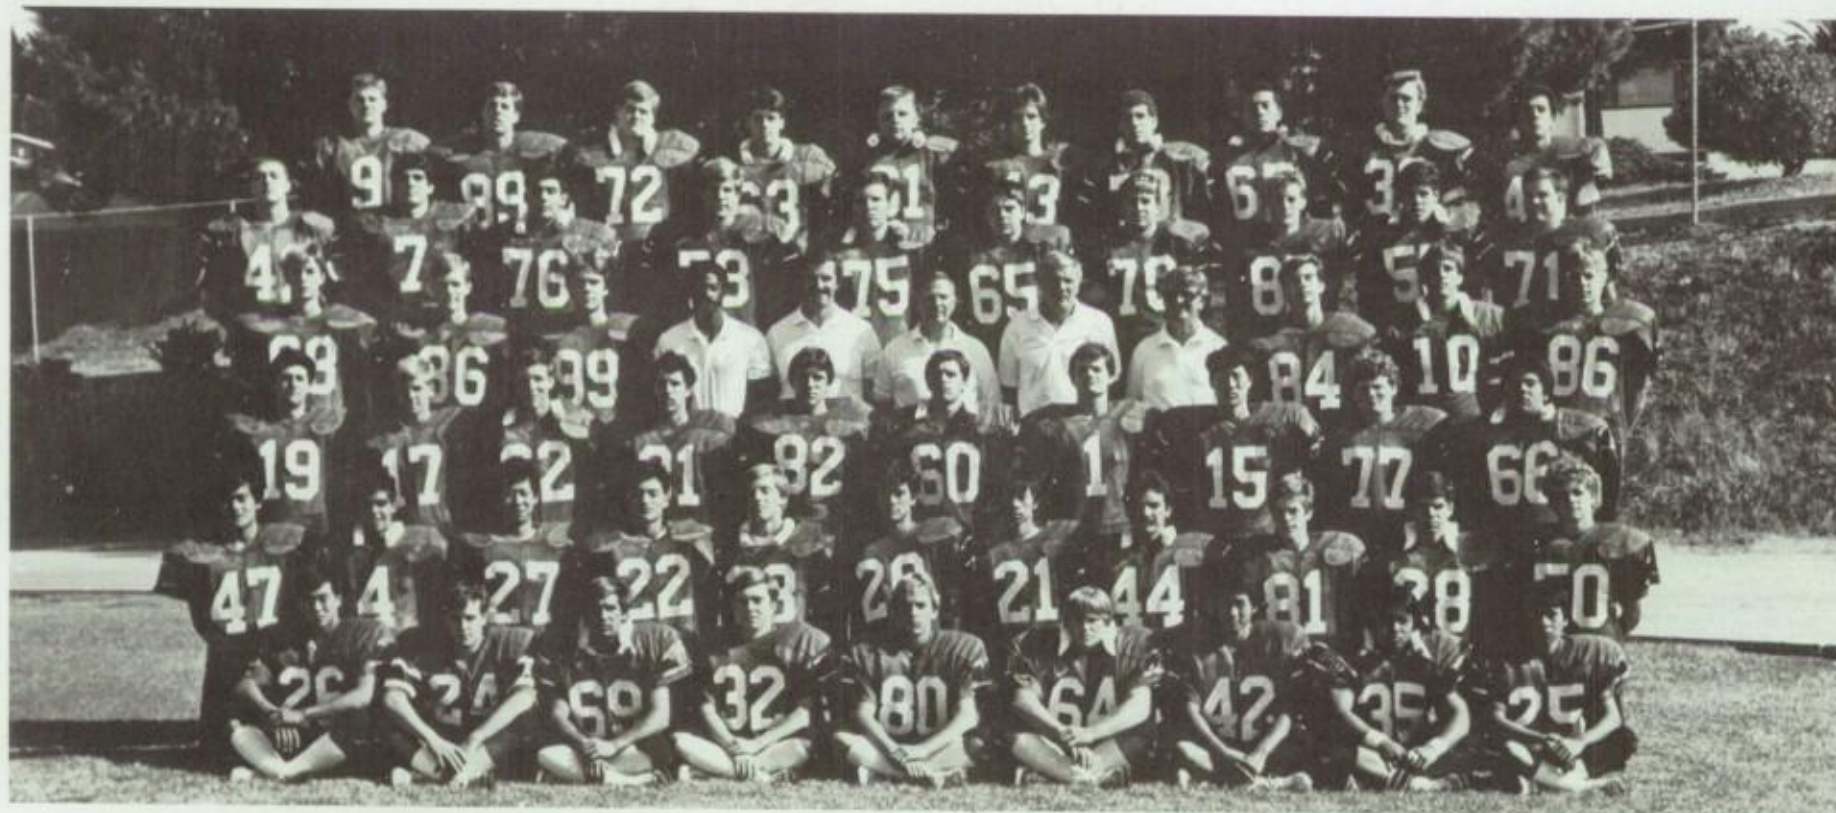

Varsity football captures Bay League

With the help of Scott Recknor's steady hands, leading scorer Dom Militello contributes 3 to his 62 point season total.

Coach Russell remarked, "Despite having a bad year as freshman, the sophomores improved immensely and had an excellent year."

The Freshmen showed their traditional PV talent by ending up with a record of 6-4. They proved their dominance in the Bay League by going undefeated and capturing the Bay League title. Coach Fawaz said "The team played great this year and should make strong teams in the years that they remain here at PV high."

Heading for the straightaway, Scott Byrd goes on to win the race.

Boys' Varsity Cross Country had an outstanding season this year, placing second in Bay League. Under the leadership of Co-captains Tom Vogt and Peter Olson, the team was competitive enough to go on to CIF. A highlight of the season came when they went to the Clovis Invitational in Fresno. Coach Kelly admitted, "the guys had tough competition this year, but they really stuck together and have been a joy to coach."

The Junior Varsity team had one of its best years ever, remaining undefeated throughout the entire season. Meet after meet, they annihilated their competition, including such supposedly high-ranked schools as Rolling Hills, Jesuit, and Thousand Oaks. Top returning juniors David Smith, Hos Khaleeli, and Chris "the Drisk" Driscoll are expected to do well on Varsity next year.

Girls' Varsity Goes To CIF

With extra effort, Lily Yu and Misty Yoshikawa increase their lead.

Led by the strength and depth of the Palos Verdes pack, the Girls' Varsity team had an outstanding year. They finished first in Bay League, undefeated, and placed fourth in CIF. Great performances were turned in by Julia Weldon, Kaysie Choate, Kia Moore, and Erin Kelly. Coach Joe Kelly stated, "Even though we didn't have a superstar this year, the girls ran better than I had ever expected."

In addition, the Girls' Junior Varsity team also completed an undefeated season, climaxed by a first place finish in Bay League. They competed in record numbers, finishing well ahead of their competitors. The team was led by Tracy Leichter, Meghan Simmons, Terry Wilson, and Shatara Wright.

Coach Kelly characterized Boys' Sophomore cross country as, "a fine team that ran exceptionally well together." Hopefully next years' team will be as successful.

Showing promise, cross country teams are victorious

In the final stretch, Aaron Black struggles for the finish line.

Staying with the pack, David Dudman puts forth all effort.

They came back half-way through the year to lose only to Santa Monica. The team ended up second in Bay League and qualified for C.I.F. The first girl coach ever, Loren Wallerstein did a great job with the team this year. Most Valuable players Sean Castagna and John Redd, and Senior Nominee for Athlete of the Year, Dave Reeves, were great team leaders this season.

The Frosh-Soph Team had a good year despite the fact that they had three coaches. Rod Oshita, 1984 Olympic athlete, did a great job in the coaching. Unfortunately he had to go to Switzerland for a tournament. The teams MVP, Howard Redd, was a great asset to the team as goalie. The team ended up third in Bay League.

The JV team also played very well throughout the year, capturing the Bay League title. Coach John Fullerton is extremely excited for next year because the quality of play will be outstanding; the JV Most Valuable Player went to Mindy Fountain.

Senior Captain Liz White was awarded the Most Inspirational on the team and added a lot of spirit and enthusiasm. Eva Burkley was Most Improved and by the end of the season, her spikes were almost unstoppable. Boys' varsity has many key wins Led by Captains Dom Millitello, Pat Paolucci, and Chuck Swanson, the Boys' Varsity soccer team made up for a mediocre '84 season by making it into CIF.

There were not too many changes that occurred in the team, except the addition of the new goalie, Adam Weyne. The '85 season proved to be the turning point for the soccer team.

Markus Wittmann kicks the ball into the goal to add a score for Palos Verdes.

The Boys' JV soccer team had a very tough season. Leading the team this year were forwards Mike Norby, Tom Connaghan, and George Michel. Defending the goal to the best of his ability was David Roth. Due to a lot of sickness and injuries many players were out for part of the season.

The Boys' Frosh-Soph soccer team started off the season successfully by winning the South Tournament. The team led by John Blanco and Kevin Mardesich continued to play consistently throughout the season.

Displaying great skill, Soi Kitano controls the ball down the field.

Led by a new coach Darryl Carlock, the Junior Varsity team had a fairly good season. The team was made up of mostly freshman and new players. It was seen at the end of the season that their team unity and spirit had progressed.

Monica Savo gracefully dribbles down the field.

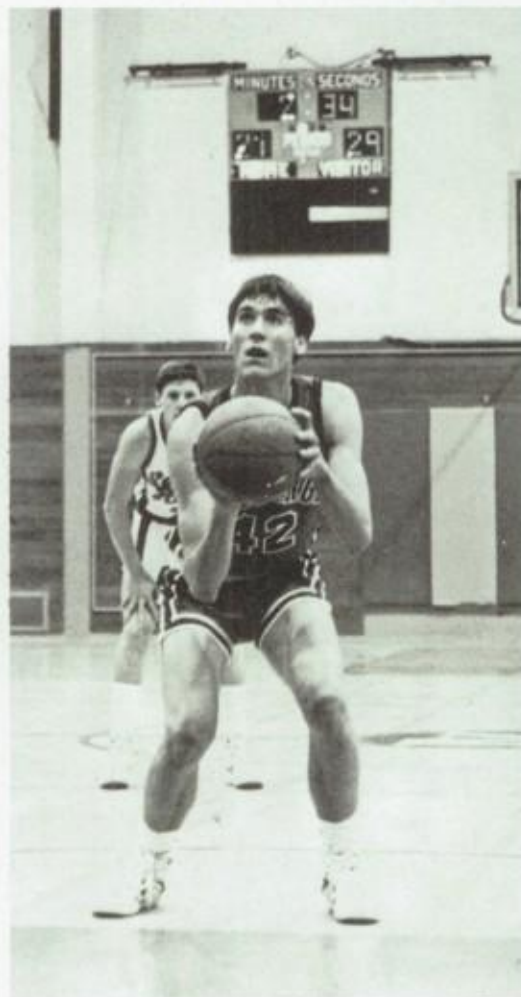

Nancy Dudman and Heather Mac Tavish beat their opponent to the ball.

Varsity struggles through difficult season

Despite their poor showing in Bay League competition, the Boys' Varsity Basketball team consistently turned in fine performances, surprising many teams with their strong play. With the introduction of the four-corners offense, Palos Verdes managed to stay in games which they were expected to lose. Led by Co-captains Kent Clayton and Carlos Fernandez, the team continued to improve, despite their losing record.

After a disappointing pre-season, the Boys' JV Basketball team came on strong to a 5-1 record at the end of the first half. Under the leadership of Co-captains Jim Matteoni and Mike Mihaljevich, the team constantly surprised opponents with their victories in close games and their impenetrable 1-2-2 zone defense.

Jeff Pelton concentrates on his free throw.

As the West defenders watch in awe, Carlos Fernandez lays it up.

With two new coaches leading the way, the Boys' Freshman and Sophomore teams showed great improvement throughout the season. The Sophomores, led by Mike Matteoni and Justin Marsh, exhibited great promise for future years. The freshman, moreover, were led by the consistent play of Robby Pelton and Matt Ralph. These teams give PV basketball fans something to look forward to in the coming years.

Carolyn King helps assist Marci Blue as she aims for the basket.

The Girls' basketball teams this year show signs of a good future. Although still young, both the Varsity and JV teams worked competitively against tough Bay League rivals.

Coach Wendell Yoshida said that the team is still learning and gaining experience. Led by only senior Patti O'Brien, the young team lacked experience yet developed new talent. "This talent" said Abbey Gleason, "is in the team's great defense, a large factor in our success.

Like the Varsity team the Girls' JV basketball team, coached by Adria Molina, also promises great talent for future PV teams. Melissa Siegel, Laura Blackwelder, and Jenny Liu were just a few of the many talented players on this team.

Boys' Varsity plays strong adversaries

Hard hitting and efficient fielding by Jon Berger, Chris Davis and Dom Militello lead the PV Boys' Baseball team to another succesful season. Captains Chris Davis, Doug Russel and Scott Recknor left the offense with relatively little to do with their good hard pitching. Coach Gil Eberhard provided the coaching, bringing the team to another great CIF season.

Scoring another run, Peter Kaye helps to put another mark in the win category.

The Palos Verdes dugout is filled with high spirits as Coach Eberhard approaches. Jon Berger throws the ball to second base to make an important play.

Strong hitting and pitching proved to be the key in 1985

Showing the form of a professional pitcher, Gregg Jahelk makes batters shiver at his presence on the mound.

Starting off the year with great coaching and an experienced lineup, JV baseball did well this year. In Bay League they had many outstanding games showing skill and dexterity, as well as their representation in their outside tournaments. Starting pitcher Scott Strahle put in many fine performances.

This year the Frosh-Soph baseball did better than expected in outside the Bay League. Returning two pitchers Mike McKay, Gregg Jahelka and outfielder Darren Haworth led their team who generally looked very strong this year.

With a look of anguish, Steve Tauber goes on to win by a wide margin.

Concentrating on the track, Tom Vogt stays ahead of his competitors.

Flying through the air, Raymond Baculi uses his perfect form to clear the high jump bar.

The Palos Verdes Varsity track team once again ended an outstanding season in Bay League competition. Inspired with the painful workouts administered by head coaches Joe Kelly and Rod Flagler, many of the members hit certain standards allowing them to wear Varsity Stripes.

Excellent performances were given by Tom Vogt, Steve Tauber, Mike Hillis, and Hendrik Falk. Many of the retuning juniors should provide an excellent Varsity team for next year.

Frosh-Soph teams have a great year

"In spite of their small size the Freshmen and Sophomore teams had excellent seasons," Coach Rod Flagler said. Sophomores Mark Hatch and Vic Furer brought in outstanding times in the two mile and freshmen Matt Carroll and Alex Furer excelled in the mile. The team was also aided by the efforts of Greg Branch in the triple jump, Richard Vandoren in the sprints and David Scudamore in the two mile.

Girls' track performs well

Even though competition was tough, both Junior Varsity and Varsity track had a spectacular year. Freshmen Marci Blue, Nancy Dudman, and Gail MacEachern all earned their Varsity stripes. This feat has never been accomplished by any freshmen in the past. Seniors Kaysie Choate, Silvana Schiappa, and Julia Weldon summed up their final high school year with exceptional sportsmanship and running.

The JV team had a strong showing because of the great talent and depth of the team.

"The talent of Junior Varsity and Varsity sprints has vastly improved over former years," stated Coach Flagler.

Putting forth all effort, Andrea Nelson looks toward the finish line.

Both Boy's swim teams had a productive year with the help and support from the new coach, Brian Weaver. With new swimming star, Jay Elwell as the captain, they were successful in many races. Although the team has had different coaches in the past, they plan on having Weaver for many years to come. Remarked one swimmer, "He is really tough, but it's for our own benefit." Both teams placed well in Bay League for the 85' season.

Outstanding swimmers were Deanne Twidwell and Amy Thompson in butterfly, Julie Rankine in backstroke, Karen Ramirez and Jennifer Wiggington in breaststroke, Janet Ramirez and Jennifer Wiggington in freestyle, and Deanne Twidwell and Jody Stulhbarg in the distance events.

Because of the depth and camaraderie, the team was able to do very well in dual meets, invitationals, Bay League finals, and CIF competition. Also, with the addition of Aaron King as assistant coach, the girls were able to receive more individual instruction. Commented head coach Jean Myhre, "Of all of the years that I have coached, this team has the most potential."

With perfect form, sophomore Amy Thompson wins the freestyle race with ease.

Gymnasts excel in Bay League meets

Starting off the year strong, the Palos Verdes Gymnastics team had consistent performances turned in by sophomore, Debbie Berger and newcomer, Barbara Eastwood. Both competed in all four events. Other top all around gymnasts were senior Captain Lisa Prescott and co-tri captains Donna Buckley, Kirsten and Diedre Gee. "This was a successful season and I was proud of the girls," stated coach Jim Mitchell.

Team Captain Lisa Prescott exhibits tremendous poise and control with a difficult move on the balance beam.

Boys' golf team has another winning season

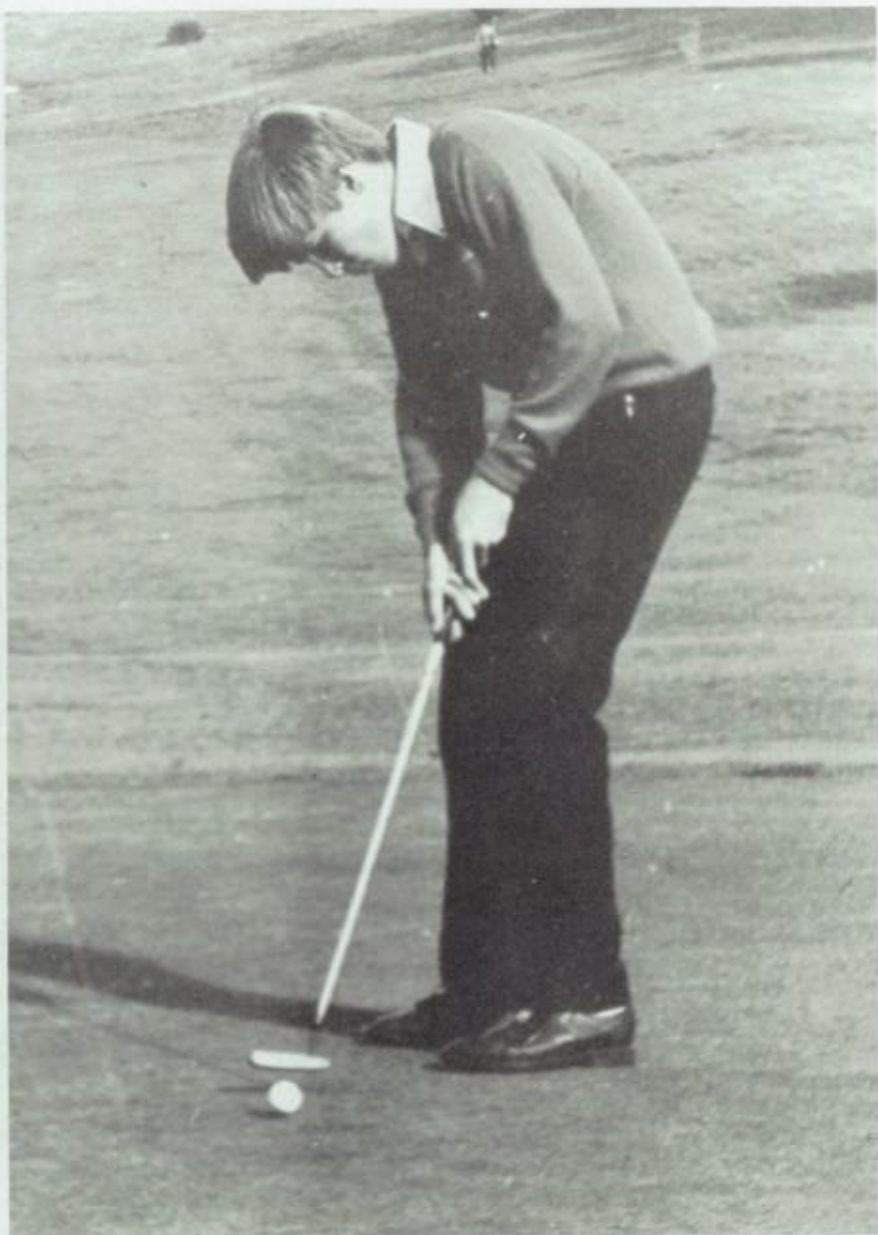

Varsity Golf: Coach Wilton, James Lee, Danny Phillips, Joe Goswitz, Kenny Hom, Scott Widdifield, Joseph Wang, Jeff Whitley, Gilbert Yi, Ian McDonald, Jason Williams.

Discussing strategy, Danny Phillips and Jason Williams hope to beat Rolling Hills.

With confidence, Ian McDonald tees off with a successful shot on the first hole.

Palos Verdes' Golf team had continued success in Bay League competition. With great efforts from juniors Joe Goswitz and James Lee and senior Scott Widdifield, many of their opponents were defeated. Their biggest rival for the Bay League crown was Rolling Hills.

Danny Phillips skillfully sinks a putt for a birdie to clinch the victory.

Following through on a great shot, Joseph Wang watches excitedly as his shot lands on the green.

Boys' Varsity volleyball is CIF bound

Led by setters captain Scott Mumby Casey La Scalla and an important ressure front line of spikers Mark Goodale and Tom Melton, the Sea King Varsity volleyball team had an excellent year and displayed great effort and enthusiam throughout.

The season started out with a triumph over the Miraleste Mauraders whom the Sea Kings haven't beaten since 1973. With enthusiastic attitudes, and the addition of a new player, Henrik Kjaer from Denmark, the Sea Kings' teamwork and passing strategies came naturally.

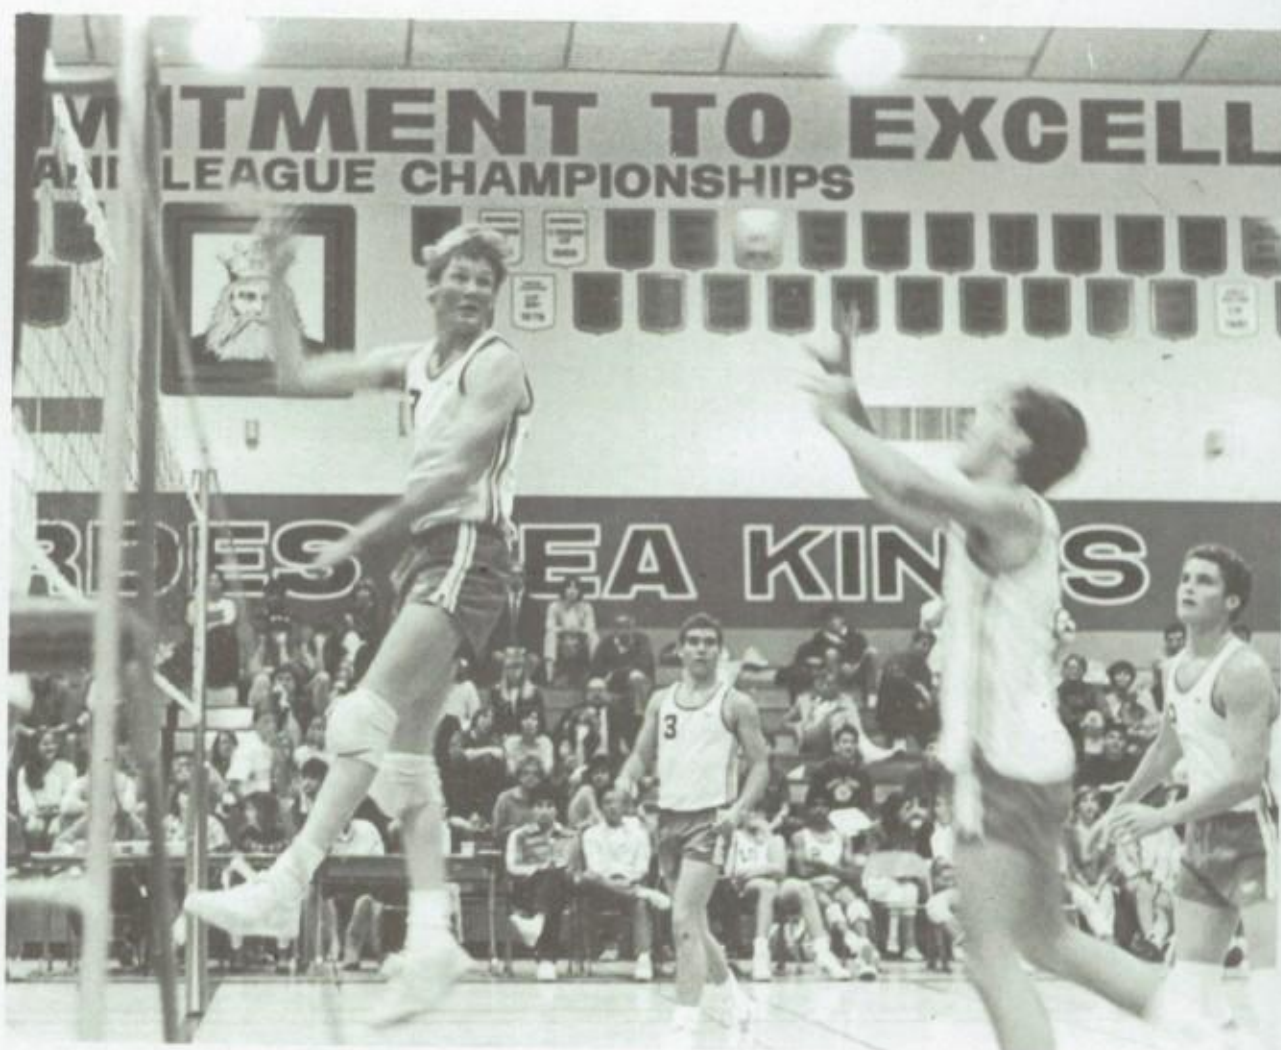

Under the coaching of Ray Nunn, PV's volleyball outlook of the season had been very favorable and the Sea Kings again lived up to standards with an all around successful year.

Improving greatly throughout the year, the Boys' JV team impressed many with their team unity. Coach Wendell Yoshida had a lot of confidence in his players this year and that there are many that will be an asset to both future JV and Varsity teams.

Passing the ball with skill, the varsity boys succeed in making another successful play work.

Scoring the point, Henrik Kjaer spikes the ball, finishing the play set by Scott Mumby.

Tennis dominates foes in league

Consisting of seven seniors and one junior, this year's Boys' Varsity Tennis team focused their hopes on another CIF championship. With the strongest and most experienced team assembled in years, they dominated the Bay League. Captain Scott Spearman remarked, "I feel that this year's team is the strongest team PV High has had in many years. I am very confident and optimistic about our chances of winning CIF."

The JV Tennis team, due largely to the strength of the Varsity, had many players who would normally play on any other varsity team. This added strength gave a new dimension to JV tennis and led the JV team to another winning season.

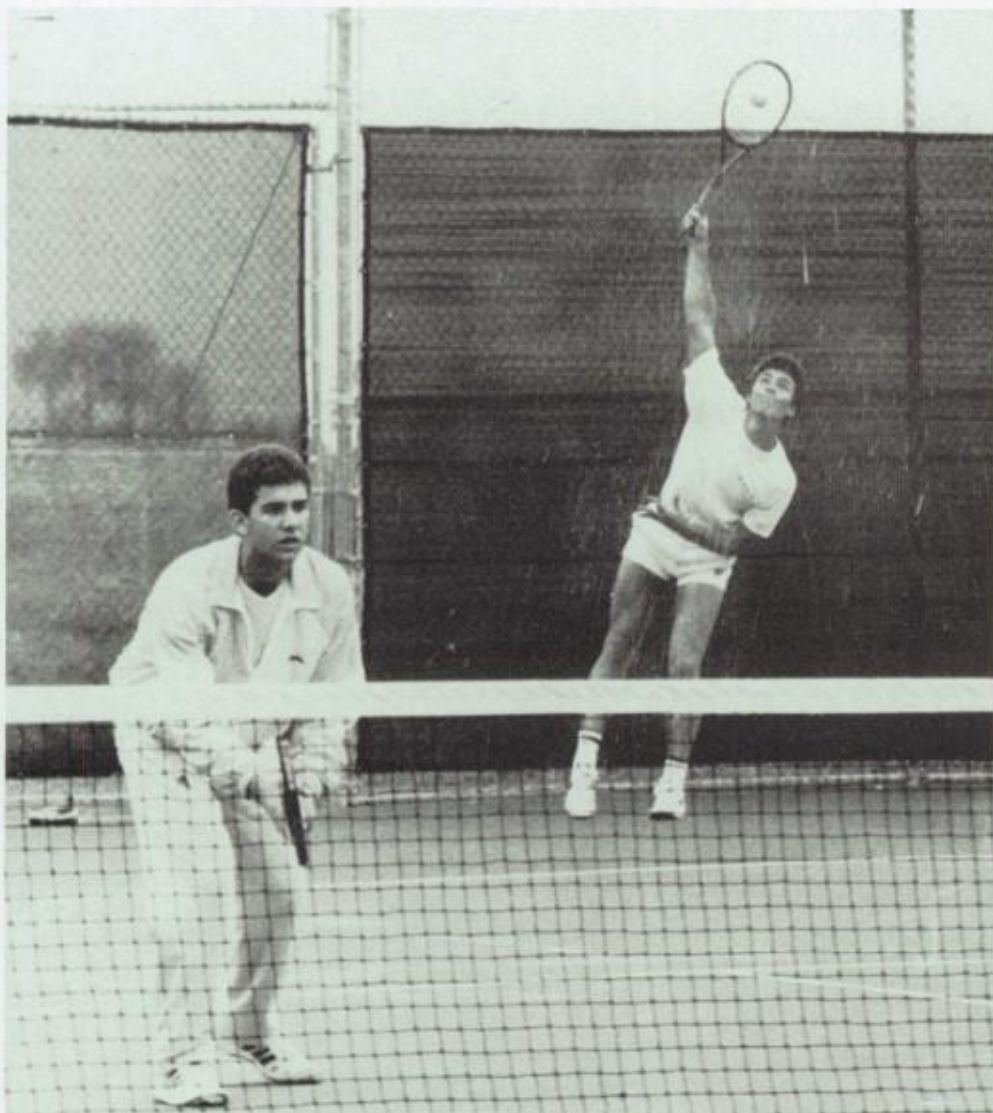

Defying gravity, Mike Brandmeyer hits a powerful forehand for a winner against his opponent.

In return all I can give are my wishes of love to have when feeling lonely and a hand to hold when you're afraid and the wishes of good luck and fortune to guide you to good health and happiness.

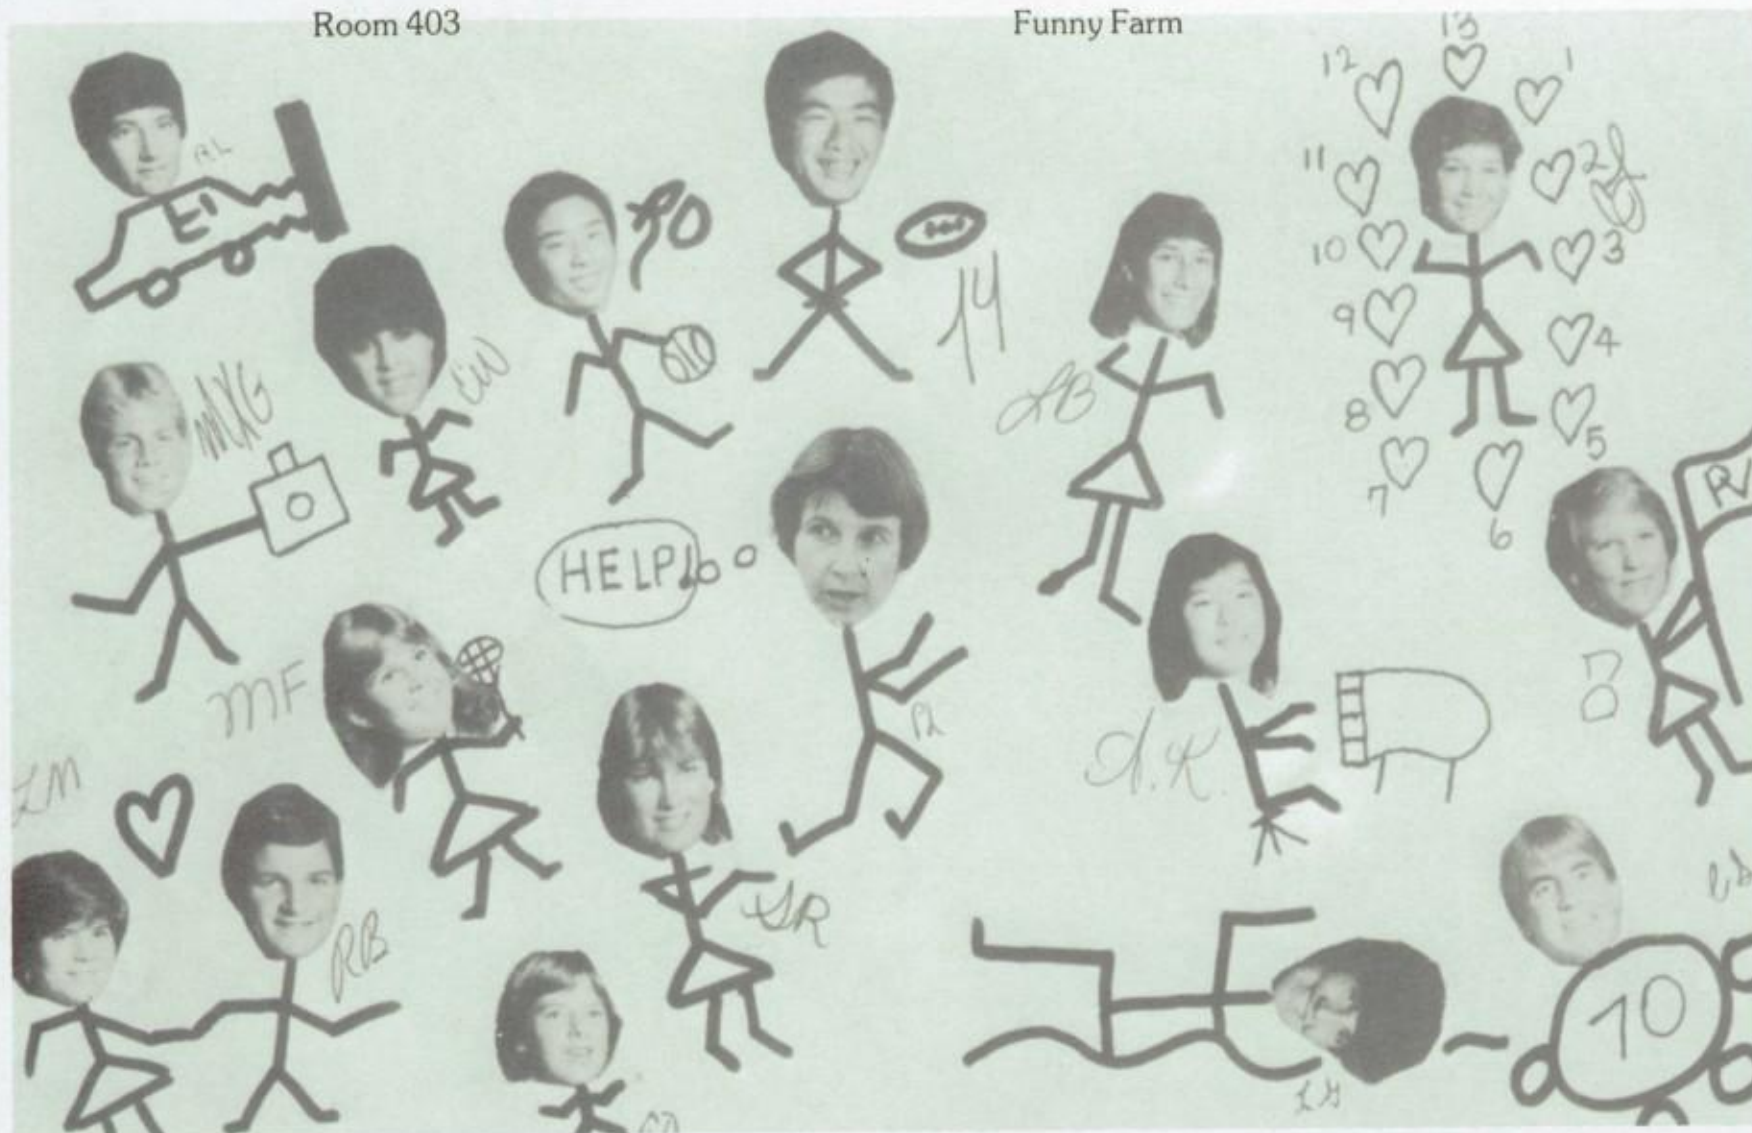

Please accept this knowing you will forever be in my heart. I love you.

THE ARROW AND THE SONG

*I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For, so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.*

*I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?*

*Long, long afterward, in an oak
I found the arrow, still unbroke;
And the song, from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.*

-Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Mike Brandmeyer tries his hardest to make Doug Russell laugh.

Carnival Week, with its many lunchtime activities, provided excitement for all grade levels. Activities included Family Feud, Make Me Laugh, and the three legged race. Also, the ever-present baseball dunking booth soaked many of Palos Verdes' most loved students.

During the three legged race, Elaine Hovanisian and Matt Newell try to keep in step.

Untouchable's top carnival dance

The Untouchables appear exhausted after their successful performance at Palos Verdes High.

Rounding out a week of enthusiasum, the well awaited carnival dance finally arrived. 611 and the SOS warmed students up for the headliners, The Untouchable's. Palos Verdes students gave the up-and-coming group a huge response. The Untouchable's played songs from their debut album such as "Free Yourself" and "Stepping Stone." It was a memorable night for many of their fans.

Soph Doll Week proves 'Moore' excitement at PV

As another spring rolled around in PV, so did the annual Soph Doll Week. The candidates included Jennifer Baszile, Kathy Cunningham, Susan Donaldson, Carrie Moore, Kim Ito, Karen Ito, and Keely Peters. Forty-nine sophomore boys carried buckets obtaining money anyway they could for their favorite candidates. The whopping nine hundred dollars collected will go towards the 1986 Junior-Senior Prom. After days of waiting, the Soph Doll dance and announcement came. Carrie Moore was announced Soph Doll '85 following in the footsteps of her sister, Kia, Soph Doll '83. Afterwards, 611 and the SOS and Treble Entente ended a night of excitement.

Following 611 and the SOS, members of Treble Entente play for the crowd

After being delayed many times by rain and complications, the 1985 Powder Puff football game finally arrived at PV. The junior and senior girls practiced for weeks in preparation for the big event with supervision from various varsity football players. The Juniors had a strong offensive side with players such as Erika Lucas and Josette Blue while the Seniors held a strong defense with Ann Vasey and Amy Schweigler. But Andrea Williams dominated the senior defense to help them win 21-0. This was the second consecutive win by the unbeatable class of '85. The crowd was also treated to a special halftime show starring Ted Houston.

While Josette Blue and Kristin LaBelle clear the way, seniors Patricia Sinay, Monica Savo, Lucinda Cole, Charmaine Quiang, and Amy Schweigler rush Erika Lucas.

The 1985 Junior-Senior Prom, held at the Beverly Wilshire, provided a night that will never be forgotten for many PV students. Fine dining and dancing set the mood of "The Evening of Elegance." Organized by Junior Class President, Lisa Ito, the Prom was a complete success with balloons and flowers decorating the room.

Great performances

Orchesis continued its excellent dance history with talent and fun-loving spirit. Under the leadership of the inspirational officers, Erika Lucas and Peri Andrus, they had another successful year.

The Palos Verdes Chorale performed at several prestigious places including the Norris Theater. Chorale performances were led by Ms. Goodwin.

Orchestra, conducted by Bob Marino, performed throughout the year maintaining their high reputation as an advanced musical group.

Spring sports excel in League and CIF

The girls' gymnastics team ended the year as Bay League champions. The Sea Kings also placed fifth in the CIF finals at CAL Poly Pomona. Competing in the individual finals were Debbie Berger and Barbara Eastwood. Berger placed eighth in the all around competition with a 34.5 while Eastwood finished fifth in vault with a 8.9.

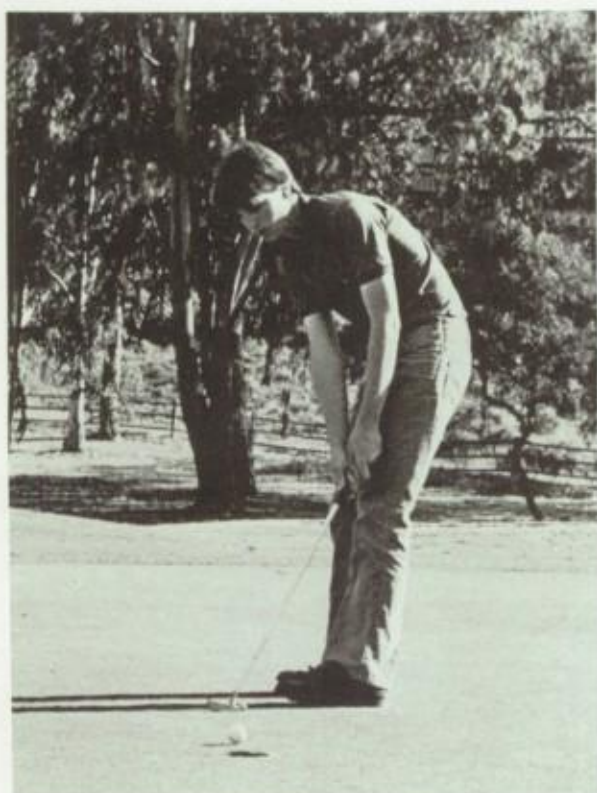

The MVP again this year was Berger, while most improved went to Melissa Gee, and most inspirational went to, senior, Donna Buckley.

Not only did Captains Kaysie Choate and Kia Moore lead both the Junior Varsity and Varsity girls' track team to an undefeated season, but they also helped both teams earn the title of Bay League Champions.

Coach Kelly stated proudly, "It was a very successful season, it has been at least 10 years since both of the girls' teams have achieved the Bay League title." Great effort and success were put in by Junior Varsity MVP Heather Rafuse and Varsity MVP's Stephanie Poncher and Janet Reese. Marcie Blue and Silvana Schiappa, who both received the most inspirational award, were also of much assistance throughout the season.

"Not only did the girls put out outstanding individual performances, but they also showed outstanding team performances as well," said Coach Flagler.

Having an excellent season and showing great running skills, Janet Reese, also won the award for the most improved.

The Boys' golf team had high expectations for a league championship, but unfortunately they finished in 2nd place behind Santa Monica. The team was lead by the Co-MVP's, Juniors James Lee, and Joe Goswitz, along with Senior Nominee Scott Widdifield. Freshman Brad Haney received Most Improved. Lee said, "Things started out slowly, but later in the year, we grouped together and finished strongly as a team."

In spite of promising outlook, the Boys' Varsity track team came in 3rd place in the 1985 Bay League season. The highlight of the season, however, came as they narrowly defeated their arch rival Rolling Hills. Several athletes performed excellently. Among these were Ted Shieh, Hendrik Falk, Thomas Franklin Vogt, and Mike Hillis.

Despite a controversial season, the Palos Verdes Varsity tennis team ended the year with great success. With a Bay League record of 11-1, and an overall record of 18-3, the Sea Kings reached the CIF Semi-finals before losing a disappointing match to Santa Barbara. Awards this year were given to Co-MVPs Andrew Chekian and Kurt Kredel, Most Improved Doug Linehan, and Most Inspirational Scott Spearman. The JV team also had a successful season. The team had many talented and ambitious young players. MVP was awarded to Jason Taylor.

1985 was a very big year for the PV Boys' Varsity volleyball team. Leading the team to first place in Bay League with a record of 10-2 were captains and MVP's Mark Goodale and Scott Mumby.

Senior Athlete Mumby and Casey LaScala, who really inspired the team throughout the year, led the plays and setting. The power shots and spiking were led by Mark Goodale who made the all CIF team and was helped by team members Henrik Kjaer and most improved, Tom Melton. Even though their success did not carry them through to win CIF, in which PV was ranked 7th, the team put incredible skill and dedication into their games which made this year in Boys' volleyball one of the most memorable in PV history.

The Sea King baseball team was faced with strong Bay League competition. Every team was a tough competitor but PV completed the season with many close games. Although the team went 3-9, special recognition was given to John Berger (MVP), Scott Recknor (Most Inspirational) and Scott Sniffin (Most Improved).

The 1985 season for both the JV and Frosh/Soph baseball teams turned out to be more than successful. Coach Russel's Frosh/Soph team wound up Bay League Champions, not to mention, an outstanding 18-3 record. The MVP awards went to pitcher Mike McKay and shortstop Chris Kitching's. Bill Judy's JV team ended the year in second place in the Bay League, in addition to, an impressive 19-6 record. The MVP award went to third baseman George Michel.

Spring sports excel

The Boy's Varsity swim team had a very productive season. Although they ended up fifth in Bay League, they enjoyed the coaching of the new coach, Brian Weaver, who said, 'Due to lack of essential time, we didn't swim as well as we could have.' Strong leadership was provided by Jay Elwell, team captain, who also placed fifth in the 50 yard freestyle in CIF. Good performances were also turned out by John Redd, Dave Dollar, Bob Li, Bob McCallum, Erik Nelsen, and Dan Skagen in the Bay League finals.

The Frosh-Soph team had an excellent season finishing up by winning Bay League. During the season, strong performances were put out by Brian Boyle and Will Herndon in the butterfly events. Howie Redd also performed well all season by winning first in the 100 yard backstroke and second in the 200. Larry Rubin and Jay Hagan did well in the sprint and long distance freestyle races.

With a not-so great beginning season, Girls softball, has optimistic plans for the future. "Palos Verdes will have a stronger performance from this time forward," said Coach Alan King.

They have played three strong games this year losing to Santa Monica (5-4), losing to West (4-2), and a very strong game against Rolling Hills losing (10-8).

"Palos Verdes is going to turn the program around," said King. He added, "With an enthusiastic JV team and plans for off-season plays in softball leagues and with eight returning Varsity players, PV will dominate in the next two years."

Coach King feels that Denise Decarli's pitching is improving tremendously. Decarli has been a starter for two years now. Also, another star player is Abby Gleason for her ability on third base.

Once again, the Girls' swim team has proven that good results come from a lot of hard work. For the third year in a row, the Varsity team captured the Bay League title. They also beat Lakewood, their first dual meet loss in 35 straight meets. Amy Thompson, Julie Rankine, DeAnne Twidwell, Jennifer Wiggington, Karen Ramirez, Lisa Goldman, Dee Ruud, and Tayna Mishell all contributed to the Sea Kings' fifth place in CIF. Janet Ramirez was the senior nominee for athlete of the year. For the second year, DeAnne Twidwell was awarded the Most Valuable Player. Lisa Goldman received the Most Improved and Lauren Fein was the Most Inspirational.

The Frosh/Soph team were also the Bay League champions. Dee Ruud was awarded Most Valuable Player and Jenneke Wilcox received Most Improved. Commented Head Coach Jean Myhre, "There was so much team unity this year. The girls really worked together as a team and had fantastic results. This was a great way to end my five years teaching at PVHS and I will have many fond memories of the team."

Boys' gymnastics club performed well under the guidance of Jim Mitchell during their first year. Their exhibition meet with the Girls' team was enthusiastically received.

Excellence rewarded

At the end of the students' academic year, ceremonies were held to recognize those who have excelled in various areas. The Presidential Academic Fitness Awards, the California Scholarship Federation, and National Honor Society were awarded to those seniors with high grade point averages and community services. The Senior Awards Ceremony named department and scholarship awards to graduating seniors.

Seniors Carry Out Biggest Ditch Ever-To Catalina Island

One of the many things underclassman look forward to is Ditch Day. The Class of '85's chance had come to legally cut classes and spend the day on Catalina Island. While the rest of the PV students froze in a cloud of fog, Seniors enjoyed the sunny day of biking, tanning, sight seeing, and swimming. It was also an opportunity for them to get better acquainted with the other members of their class. With the feeling of summer in the air, the journey put the seniors one step closer to graduation day.

While Denise Doley dreams about the long day on Catalina, Kent Clayton tries to keep her warm.

With hopes of staying at Catalina forever, Scott Crogg hauls his luggage to the beach.

Appearing exhausted, Lisa Dallenbach takes a short breather with her friends.

Graduation: a step to the future

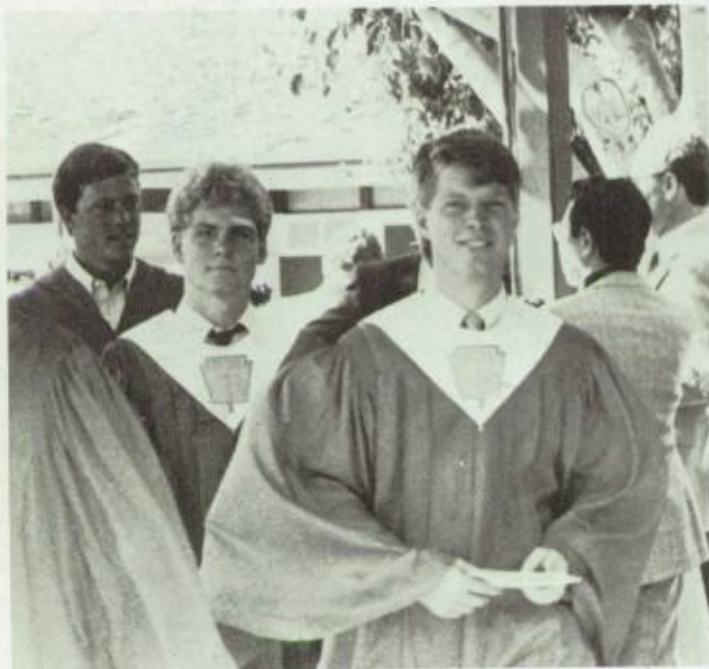

After a successful 4 years at PV High, the class of '85 looks on to an exciting future. Even though they're leaving, the students keep memories of meaningful friendships and fun times.

Waiting for their diplomas, the seniors remember old times.

Ariane Fuechtner and Ellen Wallace, who returned from a year in Australia, exchange ideas about attending schools in countries other than their own.

Matt Glavis and Steve Abbott seem pleased to be moving on.

Standing proud because of their accomplishments, the Class of 1985 listen to the Benediction.

Alex Griggs and Joey Burns perform for their last time at PV High.

My past four years here at Palos Verdes High School have been a collage of great friends and fond memories. It's hard for me to say good-bye to all the things that have been so consistent in my life for the unknown I will soon be facing, but I know this yearbook will help me to preserve the very special memories I have experienced here. I hope it will do the same for you.

Many thanks goes to my staff and especially to my assistant editors, Lynne Bartron and Rich Otera. They deserve the credit for grinding this special book out through all the deadlines and headaches. A very special thanks is accredited to Mrs. Linehan for guiding this staff to another successful production. I don't know how you do it. I'm going to miss you all.

Good luck everybody,

John Yoon
